PARKER IN NEW YORK. MEETS PARTY LEADERS

Democratic Nominee for Governor May Be Selected Here.

DAVIS FIRST TO GREET HIM

Hill's Visit to Jerome Sends McCarren to Parker with Protest-Judge at Hotel Astor.

Judge Alton B. Parker arrived in this city shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning after having made a stormy trip from Esopus in John B. McDonald's yacht Sapphire. The Judge and his Secretary, Mr. McCausland, went at once to the Hotel Astor, where a suite was assigned to them on the fifth floor.

From the time of his arrival there wa hardly a moment until he retired that Mr. Parker was not in conference with one or the other of the Democratic leaders how in the city, with the exception of ex-Senator Hill. It was asserted that Mr. Hill said all he had to say to Judge Parker during his visit to Rosemount on Monday, and that he would probably not see the candidate during his stay here.

Judge Parker will remain in the city until to-morrow evening, when he will take the 30 train over the West Shore Railroad for his home. It is believed that by that time the slate for the State ticket will have been settled, so far as the nominee for the Next came Perry Belmont, then August Belmont, and in the order in which they are named, Senator Gorman with Thomas F. Ryan, John Sharp Williams, Senator McCarren, Herman Ridder, Daniel McConville, who is in charge of the Speakers' Bureau at Democratic National Headquarters; Cord Meyer, W. S. Rodie, George Foster Peabody, and Daniel

One of the claims urged for the Hotel Astor as a stopping place for Judge Parker was that it was so constructed that his out being seen, and that Mr. Parker could be assured of the utmost privacy. From the time of his arrival here Mr. Parker did dinner being served up stairs, and Secre-cary McCausland said that no details concerning the many conferences being held

A conference of several hours' duration followed, after which Mr. Sheehan went back to Democratic headquarters and Mr. Davis returned to the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Later in the afternoon Mr. Davis took the train for his home in West Virginia. It is not likely that he will be here again during

The visit of Senator Gorman, his first to Judge Parker since the latter's nomination, and of Thomas F. Ryan was accounted especially significant. It brought out again the story that Senator Gorman may be the real helmsman in the campaign and that Chairman Taggart may remain in the West in charge of Democratic headquarters there. Even should this not come about, it is cerfrequently sought during the campaign, and promised to give any aid in his power.

M'CARREN SAYS HIS SAY.

Mr. McCarren did not mince matters in declaring his opposition to Mr. Jerome He said that whatever might be Jerome strength in the State on account of his gambling crusade would be more than offset by the opposition to him in this city, and by his well-known views on an oper Judge Parker did not commit himsell as for or against Mr. Jerome, but it is said by a person very close to the Judge that the District Attorney's whirlwind methods of campaigning appeal to him. Senator McCarren refused to make any statement concerning his visit to the candidate. "I can tell you this, however," he " Mr. Hill's visit to Jerome had nothing whatever to do with the Governorship It related entirely to legal business."

"Is that why you were in such a hurr to see the Judge as soon as the facts about Hill's visit became known?" he was asked. Mr. McCarren hurried away before his answer could be obtained.

Not long afterward Herman Ridder, who is in charge of the German Bureau at National Headquarters, called to urge his opposition to the District Attoreny. He got learn anything definite, despite his state. ment later that he knew Jerome would not be the nominee. He also told Judge Parker what the German Bureau expected to do in

Mr. McCarren also urged on Judge Parker the claims of Controller Grout, but this was met with the counter statement that ss the breach between McCarren and Murphy was healed before election l'ammany Hall would not want a better chance than to get a dig at the open leader of the organization, if he appeared as a candidate on the ticket.

There were those among the conferree who strongly urged the claims of Edward M. Shepard Judge Parker, according to one of his closest friends, who saw him yesterday, is a warm admirer of Mr. Shep-

Troops with Torpedo Apparatus Checked Flames-Loss, $500,000.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 15 .- A fire swept the business portion of the water front here to-day and destroyed $500,000 worth of property. Its progress was checked by the dynamiting of a dozen buildings by sailors from the North Affantic fleet and soldiers from the citadel garrison

The fire was at its height between 3 and o'clock this afternoon, and a fierce southerly gale was driving the flames toward the heart of the city. Suddenly, at 4 o'clock the wind veered to the west and swept the lames along the wharves and warehouses. There the lire raged, on lower Water Street, practically beyond control, until 7 o'clock to-night, when 200 men with tor-pedo apparatus landed from the Ariadne and Indefatigable and began to blow up buildings. Admiral Douglas personally directed the sailors, and ing imperial property. Some of the buildirgs dynamited were four stories high, and or an hour the city shook with the terrific plosions. The flames subsided when they ached the cleared space. The activity of the soldiers and sailors was stimulated by the fact that the fire soon would have reached the Government ordnance yard, where thousands of tons of powerful explosives were stored.

During the fire a tree fell, killing Miss Flora Ring and injuring two others. The flames destroyed six wharves, two coal piers, two hotels, a dozen big warehouses. and many shops. It undoubtedly would have been much more disastrous but for VICTORIA B. C., Sept. 15 .- Members of the crew of His Majesty's ship Grafton, just arrived from Comox, report the Russian armed auxiliary vessel Korea in the Pacific off the northern coast of Vancouver Island, steaming slowly southward. They expect that the Korea will come to Esquimault or Victoria.

She is described as a larger vessel than the Lens, and is commanded by an officer of high rank in the Russian Navy.

The news has caused much excitement a Esquimault, where preparations to deal with her case, should she enter, are now being

There has been much mystery in the novements of the Grafton recently. The ship left Victoria some days ago for her annual heavy gun practice at Comox, but put hurriedly back to Esquimault on Tuesday under forced draught and in record

After reaching Esquimault the big cruise maintained her steam pressure at unusual strength. It was supposed that her arrival was connected with the Lena affair, but it is far more likely that it was due to the presence of another Russian converted cruiser off the Pacific Coast.

THE LENA TO BE DISARMED. Will Remain at San Francisco Till End of War-Crew May Stay, Too.

Special to The New York Times. WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.-The Lena in cident has now been practically settled without causing any feeling of resentment on the part of either Japan or Russia against this Government. Acting Secretary of State Adee to-day gave out a statement to the effect that the President had issued an order directing that the Lena be taken in custody by the American naval authorities at San Francisco and disarmed. The Lena is to be taken to the Mare Island Navy Yard, and there disarmed by the removal of her small guns, the breech blocks of her large guns, her small arms nition, and her ordnance stores Capt. Berlinsky is to give a written guar antee that the Lena shall not leave San Francisco until peace is concluded.

The officers and crew are to be paroled not to leave San Francisco until some other understanding as to their disposal ernment and both belligerents.

After disarmament the vessel may removed to a private dock for such reasonrepairs as will make her seaworthy and preserve her in good condition during She may be repaired at the navy yard if the Russian commander should so elect. If she goes to a private dock the Commandant of the navy vard at Mare Island is to have custody of the ship, and the renairs are to be overseen by an engineer officer to be detailed by the Commandant. When renaired the ves Navy Yard, and be there held in custody

This action has been taken on the writen request of the commander of the Lena, addressed to Rear Admiral Goodrich, set ting forth that as the vessel is incapable of putting to sea without needful repairs she must disarm, and asking that repairs be permitted after disarmament

The Secretary of the Navy has telegraphed the President's order to San Fran cisco and has given instructions to Admiral Goodrich and to Capt. McCalla, the Commandant of the Mare Island Navy Yard, to carry out its provisions.

The disposition of the Lena's crew is the ne matter to be arranged. It is not improbable that Japan would make a strong objection to allowing the crew to be sen back to Russia before the war is over Russia naturally does not like the idea o keeping the men at San Francisco, under heavy expense. However, this seems now to be the most likely settlement of the Theodore Hansen, First Secretary of the Russian Embassy, who arrived here today, had a long conference with Mr. Adee and expressed the desire of his Govern-ment that the Lena be disarmed.

up in the Republican State Convention which met here to-day. Few conventions in the history of the party in the State have been marked by such vindictiveness as was displayed in to-day's convention by the followers of Senator Platt against the leadership of Gov. Odell. It was made plain to every person in the convention hall that the nomination of a candidate for Governor and for the other State officers was not the chief concern of those assembled here to perform that duty. The vital question with all of them apparently was whether the will of Odell or Platt should be flone. Higgins and Woodruff, the rivals for the nomination for Governor, were pawns in the game. The real contest was whether Odell or Platt was to be supreme in Republican councils.

The victory was with Odell, but such was the cutting down his leadership received at ne hands of Platt orators that might have exclaimed, "One more such victory and I am undone."

Mr. Woodruff withdrew from the contest for Governor before the roll was called on the nomination for that office. It was he who moved that the secretaries cast the vote of the convention for Mr. Higgins. All the other nominations were made in the same manner.

Odell and Platt Meet.

It was with considerable interest that the delegates and those holding convention seats wended their way down Saratoga's chief thoroughfare to the convention hall between 10:30 and 11 o'clock this more Undoubtedly their expectations of an exciting time would have fallen had they known of a meeting between Gov. Odell and Senator Platt which had taken place in the rooms of the Senator a short time before. At that meeting it had been agreed that themselves with a protest against the alleged manner in which his nomination was to be prevented, and that after such protest had been offered Mr. Woodruff himself would rise and move to make the comination of Mr. Higgins unanime enew of that important decision. The belief of practically all of the delegates was that they were to witness a fight to the inish. In that they were disappoint as things turned out they could not fairly omplain that the performance they did witness lacked anything in the way of ex-The spokesmen for Mr. Woodruff in the convention were W. A. Prendergast of Brooklyn and Assemblyman Jan togers of Broome, the majority leader in the Assembly.

Prendergast's Fierce Protest.

Mr. Prendergast is an orator who knows now to protest. Nothing quite so vigorous and biting as the protest which he delivered against the methods used by Gov. Odell to bring about the nomination of Mr. Higgins has been heard in a Republican convention in years. In fact, it was the opinion of the Kings County delegation, who were boom Woodruff, that Mr. Prendergast protested too much.

However that may be, it is certain that his reputation as an orator who can say ng things in fine language was made expectation here to-night that the speech of Mr. Prendergast will be issued as a campaign document by the Democratic State Committee without much delay. He went for Gov. Odell in a manner which made the convention fairly gasp for breath.

The speech of Assemblyman Rogers might fairly characterized as a concection of vitriol and molasses. The vitriol, however, was of the real quality. Undoubtedly it will leave scars which will be a long will leave scars which will be a long time healing. Interentially he accused Gov. Odell of trying politically to assass

Senator Platt. Through all of the bitter assault on him Gov. Odell sat in his place in the Orange County delegation like a graven image. His arms were folded most of the time, and the only awkward indication of the tions which must have raged within

BITTER PROTEST IS MADE

Never in his life had there been borne in on him with greater force the verity Lord Byron's words;

He who climbs ambition's height
Will find the peaks all fringed with anow.
He who conquers or subdues mankind
Must look down on the hate of those below.

The first general applause in the con vention was for Temporary Chairman J. Sloat Fassett. Mr. Fassett made a big hit with his speech of yesterday, and when he walked down the left centre aisle of the he walked down the left centre alse of the convention hall about ten minutes before 11 o'clock, the hour set for the opening of the convention, he received an ovation. There was cheering for National Committeeman Ward and ex-Gov. Frank S. Black when they came in, and when Senator Platt tottered down to his place at the head of the Tloga delegation leaning on the arm of William A. Smyth of Owego, the present local boss of Tloga, the entire convention arose and cheered enthusiastically.

Woodruff Enthusiasm Limited.

When Timothy L. Woodruff entered he was received with wild acclaim by the Kings County delegates, but the enthusiasm for him extended to only a few of the other Noticing that there were some delegates and spectators in the hall smoking Mr. Fassett on calling the convention to order said:

to order said:

"It is the custom in Republican conventions that when the ladies come in the cigars must go out."

While Mr. Fassett was rapping for order Gov. Odell had come in, and had almost reached his seat in the Orange County delegation before he was noticed. Then some few started cheering, and the convention's attention having been attracted to the Warwick of the situation he was greeted with general enthusiasm, the band playing "Hail to the Chief."

when the band had ceased some enthusiast suggested three cheers for the Governor-Chairman, and they were given with a will. Then there was a call for three cheers for Platt. They also were heartily given. Inspired by the response which had been given to the suggestion of those who called for three cheers for Odell and Platt other enthusiasts called for three cheers for Woodruff and Higgins, which led Chairman Fassett to remark:

"Why not give three cheers for everybody?"

"Why not give three cheers for every-body?"

But no one thought of Roosevolt, and the wave of enthusiasm passed over without any demonstration for the Republican Presidential candidate.

Chairman Fassett read a telegram from the Republicans in Connecticut extending their best wishes to their brethren in New York, and concluding. "Forward, march." Senator Brackett submitted the report of the Committee on Credentials seating the Quigg and Parsons delegations from New York, and Col. Michael J. Dady, as Chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, reported in favor of the selection of Senator George R. Malby of t. Lawrence as permanent Chairman of the convention. Both reports were adopted.

As he ascended the platform Senator Malby received an almost enthusiastic greeting, the whole audience rising and cheering as the band played Sousa's "Stars and Stripes."

Malby's Claim for Republicans.

Malby's Claim for Republicans.

In addressing the convention Senator Malby said of the Republican record: "The vast sums of money which have been collected by our State officials from thousands of persons, companies, and corpora tions have been collected and expended with absolute honesty. During the past ten years there has been collected and paid out from tens of thousands of sources and purposes more than $200,000,000, and every dime has more than $200,000,000, and every dime has been exacted from those who legally owed it, and every cent has been paid to those legally entitled thereto, without so much as the loss of a farthing from any source to the people of the State.

"This presents a record of official integrity unequaled in the management of public affairs of any State in this nation or of any nation in the world, and is almost wholly unknown in the management of our personal affairs."

As Senator Malby concluded his address, one of the side doors of the convention hall was swung open and "The Unconditional

As Senator Malby concluded his address, one of the side doors of the convention hall was swung open and "The Unconditional Club of Albany, which has the reputation of being the finest marching club in the State, came in led by District Attorney George Addington of Albany and a brass band. They went around the hall and up into the gallery. Large portraits of Roosewelt and Fairbanks carried by some of the marchers provoked applause for the National candidates.

After the report of the Committee on Resolutions, read by John A. Sleigher of New York, had been adopted, nominations for Governor were declared in order by Chairman Malby, and Assemblyman Arthur C. Wade of Chautauqua made the nominating speech for Cenator Higgins. When Mr. Wade referred to the many victories which the party had won under the leadership of Senator Platt and designated him as "that great and grand man to whom we pay the homage of our admiration" there was enthusiastic cheering. Mr. Wade paid high tribute to the business ability of Senator Higgins, in the State.

"Mr. Higgins," he said, "does not come as the candidate of any faction of the party. His name could not be so presented, because there are no factions."

Raines Leads Higgins Cheering.

At the conclusion of Mr. Wade's speech there was cheering for Higgins, and it was noticeable that it was led by Senator Raines of Ontario, the majority leader of the Senate, who heretofore has always been classed as a Platt man and whose selection as President pro tem. of the Senate by order of Senator Platt led to the revolt of Senators Brackett, Elsberg and Brown.

(William A. Prendergast of Kings County was reconized by Chairman Malby, and took the platform to place Mr. Woodruff

This mistake of the Chairman called forth laughter, but did not in the least disconcert the Brooklyn orator. With a wave of his hand he exclaimed:
"Well, what's in a name?"
His cleverness in turning an awkward situation to his own advantage at once formmended him to his audience. Another recommendation was his voice. It was big and easily reached in all parts of the hall. Before he had been speaking five minutes the crowd realized that they we.

Prendergast's Pointed Remarks.

"On behalf of the representatives of Kings County, the second largest delegation in this convention," said Mr. Prendergast, "I have the honor of submitting to this great gathering the name of a candidate for the high office of Governor.

The duty imposed upon me does not only consist in the presentation of his name, but as an element of his candidacy and as an expression of the deep-seated sentiment of the deep-seated sentiment of the delegates from the County of Kings to voice in their name an earnest and at the same time vigorous protest against the course pursued in effecting a controlling influence in this convention, a course to which we honestly believe a majority of the delegates of the Empire State Convention are at heart opposed, and which their sober judgment regards as subversive to good party management.

'The party and our candidate were invited a few weeks ago to enter the delegations of an 'open convention,' a most engaging, nay, enticing, suggestion. Public curiosity was aroused as to what this cyriosity was aroused as to what this 'open convention' really comprehended, and some were so lacking in their appreciation of this great manifestation of political altruism as to murmur softly the touching melody of the spider and the fly. "We have looked somewhat in vain for the 'open' feature of this convention, and the only one discernible is the trap door, through which certain candidates have been contumeliously hurried.

His Questions to Odell Men.

"Why has the edict of official disapproval been issued against Timothy L. Woodruff? Are we to believe that it is be cause of his splendid record as a public man and his abilities and resources as a politician there are those who fear that such a character and such abilities, if associated with the great powers of the Governorship might overshadow them in public attention or party control, and that he would be Governor in fact as well as in name? "It is possible he is being punished for his friends. It is possible that he enjoys the friendship and support of the senior Senator from this State. His acceptability may be questioned, but the support of the aged and venerable Senator from New York is under any and all circumstances a decoration of honor. decoration of honor.

"Free speech without free action, free speech without the exercise of everything which is one of the tenets of the creed.

"No one action could or would redound more abundantly to the credit of our party in this campaign and settle beyond speculation the results in this State than the choice of a candidate for Governor by the delegates to this convention representing their untrammeled judgment."

Some Effects of the Speech.

When Mr. Prendergast said that the only open feature of the convention was "the trap door through which certain candidates have been contumeliously hurried," the Platt and Woodruff men evinced wild de-light. As for Gov. Odell he glowered at the speaker in a manner which boded no good to the young man's political future as long as Gov. Odell is the master of the

as long as Gov. Odell is the master of the Republican organization. Mr. Prendergast's "spider and fly" illustrations also made a tremendous hit with those who are disgruntled over Gov. Odell taking the leadership of the party.

Mr. Woodruff remained in his seat with arms folded and impassive of countenance. He developed later, however, that he was watching with trained eye what effect the assault upon Gov. Odell was having on the delegates.

watching with trained eye what effect the assault upon Gov. Odell was having on the delegates.

When Mr. Prendergast returned to his seat Col. Dady shook him warmly by the hand, but Mr. Woodruff merely murmured a word of congratulation. The cheering for Woodruff lasted for several minutes.

While the din was still going on Assemblyman James T. Rogers of Broome was recognized to second Mr. Woodruff's nomination. All through Mr. Rogers's speech there were outbursts of cheering for Woodruff. When he asked, "What are we here for to-day?" some quick-witted delegate immediately responded, "Woodruff."

The speech of Mr. Rogers was mainly a plea for the recogition of the wisdom of following the leadership of Senator Platt who had insisted upon the candidacy of Roosevelt for Governor in 1898 regardless of his friendship for Gov. Black, and asserted that in almost every instance the political judgment of Senator Platt had been justified. It would be a mistake not to follow it now, he said.

judgment of Senator Platt had been justified. It would be a mistake not to follow it now, he said.

He likened the aged Senator to Barbara Frietchle, and quoted the lines:
Shoot, if you must, this old gray head,
But spare your country's flag.
This stirred deep emotions in the audience, and one of the Albany delegates was overheard to say to his neighbor: "That's murderous." It was the general feeling that Mr. Rogers had cut so deep in that reference that the wound which he made would not be healed in the present campaign.
The chief features of the seconding speech which W. W. Niles of New York County made for Mr. Higgins was that in referring to Mr. Higgins was that in referring to Mr. Higgins he called him "Mr. Wiggins."

"Say, he don't even know the name of the candidate he's to vote for," shouted one of the Woodruff men.
After F. R. Hazard of the Onondaga County delegation had made a seconding speech for Mr. Higgins, Chairman Malby ordered the calling of the roll.

Woodruff Announces Withdrawal.

Woodruff Announces Withdrawal.

Secretary Fox stood up with the roll call his hand, but before he had called the first county Mr. Woodruff arose in his place. His appeal to the Chairman for ecognition focused the attention of the entire convention on him, and there was a tremendous outburst of cheering from his admirers on the floor and in the gallery.

The suggestion that he take the platform The suggestion that he take the piatform was shouted from all parts of the hall. As he started for the platform the enthusiasm gained renewed force. When order had been obtained Mr. Woodruff addressed the convention as follows:

"It is so obvious to the practiced eye and the trained ear of a man in active politics, who has sat in many State Conventions, that the result of this convention has been determined that I are available.

that the result of this convention has been determined, that I am anxious to save the time of the delegates which would be made, necessary by the calling of the roll of the individual delegates. And I am still more anxious, my fellow-delegates, to save a great many of you from the embarrassment of choosing between two good friends who are not only good friends of all of you, but equally good friends of each other.

dition that has entered into what to some of us seems to be an unfortunate situation I am a Republican. You can keep me from a position of command, but you cannot drive me from the ranks of the Republican Party."

"I have had the pleasure of thirty years personal acquaintance with Frank Higgins, and during the whole period of my acquaintance with him I have never known him to do an unkind thing or harbor an unkind thought. He is as well equipped as any man in the State for the office of Governor, through his long services at Albany. He is, as the gentleman from New York said, a man of rare business ability, and there is no reason in the world why this convention, if it sees fit to do it, should not name him as its standard bearer. "I just want to say one word before I make that motion, and that is to express my appreciation to those who have been with me, or would have liked to have been make that motion, and that is made that motion, and the seem with me, or would have liked to have been with me as the candidate of this convention, and particularly I want to commit the Kings County delegates before their fellow-delegates of this convention, returning without a candidate on the ticket, naturally disappointed, and even sore—I want to commit that delegation to as earnest an effort, if not a greater effort, for Frank Higgins than they would have made for me.

accordance with the motion of Mr.

In accordance with the motion of Mr. Woodruff the Secretary cast the vote of the convention for Mr. Higgins, and he was declared the nominee. The announcement of his nomination was greeted with cheers which lasted several minutes.

While the cheering was going on there was a general movement toward the doors and then to the trains, so that by the lime the other nominations were made and adjournment taken there scarcely was a corporal's guard left in the hall, while by 6 o'clock at night not more than 10 per cent. of the convention crowd was left in the village.

Gruber Nominates Bruce.

When the Governorship had been disposed f Chairman Malby recognized Col Gruber of New York, who placed M. Linn Bruce before the convention as the candi-date for Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Gruber made a humorous speech, starting in with reference to his break with Senator latt in the same convention hall six years a reference to his break with Senator Platt in the same convention hall six years before.

"The only reason why I am on this stage before you to-day," said Col. Gruber, "Is because the convention of 1898 did not repeal the law of resurrection. I have come to the belief that the man who takes his lickings with Christian fortitude or with Jewish cheerfulness may yet find a seat among the mighty.

"My candidate for Lieutenant Governor was born in the country, but he has lived in New York for fourteen years and he doesn't blow out the gas. We have lived in the same Assembly district for ten years, and both of us used to go hand in hand to 49 Broadway to take our inspiration from Senator Platt. After the convention of 1898, when Senator Platt and I differed. Bruce and I still went together to 49 Broadway, but he went up stairs while I waited on the other side of the street. Bruce has opposed me in many primary fights, but on these occasions he always made the speeches while I got the votes. As a result neither of us is sore, and I want to say that he always has won the respect of friends and enemies alike."

Senator Raines moved that the Secretary of the convention be instructed to cast one ballot for the nomination of Bruce for Lieutenant Governor, which was carried, and at 1:55 o'clock, fifteen minutes after the place was ordered, Bruce was declared to be the nominee. in nomination, took occasion to reply to Congressman W. Bourke Cockran's speech in Tammany Hall the night before. Senator said that Cockran, after going through President Roosevelt's letter of ac ceptance as with a fine tooth comb, could only find two things to object to, one being his attitude on the service pension, and the other on the Panama Canal treaty. He said that Mr. Cockran admitted in this that the Democratic Party had no case against President Roosevelt.

O'Brien's nomination was out of the way at 2:15 o'clock. Otto Kelsey of Livingston was renominated for Controller at 2:17, and then came the nomination of John Wallenmeier of Erie for State Treasurer in the record time of half a minute, Chairman Malby declaring him the nominee at 2:1715 o'clock. #### ODELL APPEALED TO PLATT. Woodruff's Withdrawal Prearranged at Private Conference.

Special to The New York Times SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 15.-The actio of Timothy L. Woodruff in withdrawing his ame just before a roll call was to be take publican State Convention to-day was no a sudden impulse on Mr. Woodruff's part. What Mr. Woodruff did had all been prearranged at conferences held between Gov. Odell and Senator Platt and between Platt had assembled. As late as 9 o'clock this morning Mr. Woodruff had said:

This is not my fight. It is Senator Platt's. It became the Senator's fight with his falling out with Gov. Odell yesterday which I have no control. I must stop in the fight unless Senator Platt desires me to to get out. I owe that to the man who has been my steadfast friend ever since my candidacy has first been mentioned Odell's candidate, but I thought that I could make him see that the sentiment of the State was for me. He has chosen to diregard that sentiment.

"Delegates who will vote for Higginshave come to me in the past two or three days and told me that I would have had their support had it not been for the fact that the screws had been put on them by

It was shortly after Mr. Woodruff had made that declaration of his intentions that Gov. Odell was seen to come out of his own cottage and cross over to that of Senator Platt. He looked like a man who had been worrying and who was suffering from loss of sleep. Despite the absolute knowledge which he had that he was able to conedge which he had that he was able to control the situation in the convention, his air was that of deep dejection. The Governor was in the rooms of the Senator but a few minutes. Later in the day it was learned what had taken place between them.

The Senator was standing near the mantelpiece as the Governor entered his parior and they greeted each other cordially. "Senator," said the Governor, "isn't there any way in which 'his situation can be saved? I know you don't wish to hurt the ticket, but I fear that will be the result uniess something is done."

The Governor spoke sadly, even affectionately. His tone was that of a man seeking advice from a friend rather than that of an acknowledged leader making a request of a dethroned boss. Probably it was the pleading in his voice which made an appeal to the Senator which he was unable to resist. At any rate, the Senator hoisted a flag of truce.

"Perhaps there is, Come and see me later," he replied.

"Have your secretary send for me when you are ready to see me." said the Governor.

hoisted a flag of truce.

"Perhaps there is. Come and see me later." he replied.

"Have your secretary send for me when you are ready to see me," said the Governor.

When the Governor came out of the Senator's home it was evident that something had occurred to cheer him up. his countenance had brightened, and he walked with a more springy step. No sooner had the Governor left his apartments than Senator Platt sent for Mr. Woodruff. They were together for some time. When Mr. Woodruff had taken his departure the Senator sent his secretary. Mr. Howe, to trug over the Governor.

"The convention," said the Senator. "But after his protest has been made he will withdraw his name and move to make the nomination of Mr. Higgins unanimous."

This announcement took a great weight off the Governor's mind. His eyes shone with pleasure when he was approached by the newspaper men and asked for news of the situation.

"Mr. Woodruff's name will be presented to the convention," he said. "but there is no feeling between myself and Senator

"Mr. Woodruit's halle will be the convention," he said. "but there is no feeling between myself and Senator Platt. There have been differences such as ray arise at any time between men, but they have not altered our friendship."

The Governor said this with an air of streagly.

There was a good deal of talk here to-day about an attack made in a Republican organ on M. Linn Bruce, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Bruce himself would make no comment on the unlooked-for and embarrassing criticism of his candidacy, but some of his friends stated that it was based upon a misconception. The belief was expressed that proper explanations would stop further attacks from that s would stop further atta

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Roosevelt and Odell Eulogized-Advice to "Let Well Enough Alone." SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 15 .- The platorm adopted by the convention is as fol-

The Republicans of the Empire State, the home of Theodore Roosevelt, in convention assembled, fifty years after the birth of the party, congratulate the country on the splendid results of the recent elections in Oregon, Vermont, and Maine, and the inspiration they have given to the cause of sevelt and Fairbanks. We repeat and confirm the pledge made to President Roosevelt by our State convention two years ago of unfaltering confidence and unwavering support. We again record our appreciation of his honesty, his wisdom, his courage, and patriotism, and of the satisfactory results of his administration, which has been one of performance unsurpassed in American history.

He has emphasized the fact that the Republican Party has made the gold standard irrevocable as long as it has control, in spite of vicious assaults by the opposing party in two successive Presidential cam paigns, and its refusal to change its attitude on this question, at its recent National convention. He has fortified the policy of protection to our industries and all engaged therein. He has strengthened and enforced the laws for the proper regulation of trusts and great corporations.

Contradiction Challenged.

He has settled forever, in our favor, th Panama Canal question; opened the way for a system of National irrigation; improved our relations with the Philippines; secured justice to Cuba; extended the rural free de livery; sought peace by strengthening our resources for defense, and made our flag respected abroad as well as honored at home. In his recent admirable letter of ac-home. In his recent admirable letter of acceptance, setting forth these facts, he has challenged contradiction—a challenge which cannot be met.

We indorse the platform of the Republican National Convention in Chicago in June last, in all its declarations, particularly those in favor of the maintenance of the gold standard and protection to American workmen and the industries by which they thrive.

We appeal for support to the common sense of those who do not believe in change for the sake of making a change and who we appear for support to the common sense of those who do not believe in change for the sake of making a change and who are willing to "let well enough alone," to those who believe in the kind of protection the Republican Party has always stood for and not in the kind with which the Democratic Party, with its free trade allies, it trying to delude industrial workers.

The people appreciate that the party which formulated the protective tariff can better be entrusted with its revision, when revision becomes necessary, than a party that has never revised the tariff without endangering the welfare both of labor and capital.

Wages Highest on Record.

The Republican Party's safe guidance is evidenced by the fact that during the adpinistrations of McKinley and Roosevelt wages reached the highest point on record and prosperity superseded adversity which resulted from Democratic politics just reaffirmed at St. Louis.

We commend the firm resolution, abiding common sense, and strict integrity, unmoved by assaults from enemies or pleas from friends, with which Gov. Odell has conducted the affairs of this State and safeguarded, with zealous care, its vast and complicated interests.

We believe in the policy of raising revenues for State maintenance by indirect taxation. The effective measures of the Republican Party in this direction constitute the greatest step taken in the history of our Commonwealth for the relief of tax-payers. If any taxes heretofore levied, especially such as affect the savings of the people, appear to be unjust or unnecessary we favor such revision of the tax laws as will equitably correct such condition.

The people of the State have decreed that the canals shall be improved, and we reaffirm the position heretofore taken by the party in regard to good roads, for the construction of which the State has already paid or appropriated over $3,250,000.

More Money for Schools.

We believe in increasing the effectiveness of the school system, greater appropriations for common schools, and the extension of free tuition in high schools, and we favor the still further building up of the State's educational facilities wherever practicable. We claim credit for the legislation which unified the State educational department and completely removed State educational activities from the field of politics.

We believe in maintaining the laws for safeguarding the interests of labor as well as of capital, and in extending such laws whenever additional safeguards may be necessary.

whenever additional safeguards may be necessary.

We believe in the further purchase and preservation of forest lands in the Addrondack and Catskill Parks, by the State, and in adequate appropriations therefor.

We congratulate the people of this Commonwealth on the satisfactory condition of the State treasury.

The Legislature to be chosen this Fall will have the selection of a United States Senator. Those who believe in sound money, a protective tarlift, and the Administration of President Roosevelt, will realize the need of electing a Republican majority in both branches of our Legislature. National as well as State policies are involved in the outcome of our State election, and we commend to every citizen the faithful performance of his patriotic duty.

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES. Records of the Candidates Selected for the State Ticket.

Special to The New York Times SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 15 .- Frank Way land Higgins, the Republican nominee for Governor, was born at Rushford, Allegany County, N. Y., Aug. 18, 1856.

He could never be induced to consent to be a candidate for any public office unti 1893, when he was unanimously nominated for State Senator of the Fiftieth District and was elected by a plurality of 8,046 votes over his opponent, who had the support of ocrats, Populists, and Socialists. Senator Higgins was renominated for three successive terms without opposition, and re-elected by increased pluralities at the elections of 1896, 1898, and 1900.

He has served on various committees and was Chairman of the Finance Committee for a longer period than any other man. He was a stern enforcer of economy in the administration of the State Government.
Senator Higgins was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Chicago in 1888, and on a number of occasions served his city, county, and district in a representative capacity. As the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor in 1902 he re-tative capacity. As the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor in 1902 he received 663,689 votes and Charles N. Bulger, Democrat, 653,555.

M. Linn Bruce, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, is a New York lawyer residing in the Twenty-first Assembly District. He was born in Delaware County, but has lived in New York for fourteen years. During this time he has served as an Assistant Commissioner of Jurors, and during the Mayoralty campaign last year was the President of the Republican County Committee. A few months ago he was a candidate for an appointment as United States District Judge with the backing of Senator Platt, but falled to get the place. On various occasions he unsuccessfully opposed Col. Abraham Gruber for the Republican leadership of the Twenty-first Assembly District.

Secretary of State John F. O'Brien, who was renominated, has not held any public office besides the one he now fills, except as a member of the Assembly representing Clinton County in the lower branch of the State Legislature.

Otto Kelsey, candidate for Controller, was appointed Deputy Controller of State in place of Nathan L. Miller by Gov. Odell in November of last year, the office to end on Dec. 31, 1904. He was born in Rochester on Nov. 11, 1852. He first held office as Supervisor of Geneseo, his present home. In 1833 he was elected to the Assembly from Livingston County and remained a member until 1902. He was defeated as a candidate for a County Judgeship prior to his appointment as First Deputy Controller to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Theodore P. Gilman of New York. During the sessions of 1900, 1901, and 1902 Mr. Kelsey was Chairman of the Assembly Committee on Cities.

He has been Clerk of the Municipal Court in Rochester and a Special County Judge and County Judge. He was elected a Justice of the Supreme Court in 1895, and since 1900 has been a Judge of the Court of Appeals. His home is in Rochester, N. Y. Julius M. Mayer, nominee for Attorney Gencral, was born in New York City on Sept. 5, 1865. He studied law at the Columbia Law School, and was admitted to the bar in 1898. In 1895 he was appointed counsel to the Excise Board under the administration of Mayor Strong, and later in the same administration was appointed counsel to the Building Department. In January, 1902, he was appointed by Mayor Low a Justice of the Court of Special Sessions, to succeed Mr. Jerome. He was reappointed in July, 1908, for a term of the years, but resigned the following December to resume the practice of his profession, and is now senior member of the firm of Mayer & Gilbert. Judge Mayer's service on the bench of the Children's Court in New York, over which he frequently presided, attracted wide attention. For several years he has been the Chairman of the Republican County Committee of New York.

DEMOCRATS' ADVANCE GUARD IN SARATOGA

Palmer, Gubernatorial Possibility, First to Arrive.

SPEAKS SHYLY OF HIS CHANCE

Odell Tag on Higgins, He Says-Democratic Heavyweights Due in Convention Town To-morrow.

Special to The New York Times. SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 15 .- Before the Republicans had more than half a chance to clear out of the town the advance guard of the Democrats began to arrive this afternoon. Many more are expected to-morrow, and practically all of the leaders will be here Saturday night, according to word sent

George M. Palmer of Schoharie County, the minority leader on the floor of the Assembly, and the man who has been extensively boomed by Senator Victor J. Dowling and other Tammany leaders as a strong man to nominate for Governor, arrived this morning in time to see the better part of the Republican State Convention. Later in the day ex-Senator John Fox, the President of the Democratic Club, arrived, and to-night ex-Assemblyman Patrick H. Roche of New York and John Martin of Elmira, one of the leading Stanchfield oomers, put in an appearance.

"I think the Democratic situation throughout the State is most promising,' sald Mr. Palmer. "Our people are getting fight, and I believe a strong State ticket will be nominated. From conversations I have had with our people in various sections I am of the belief that personal difficulties and dissentions will not be permitted to play any part in this campaign after all of the nominations have been made." together for the most aggressive sort of a

"What do you think of the nomination of Lieut. Gov. Higgins by the Republicans?" he was asked.

but the conditions that led up to his nomination certainly can do no good;" declared Mr. Palmer. "The Odel! tag is on the ticket, and it is on to stay."
"How about your own candidacy for Governor, Mr. Palmer?"
"Of that I can say nothing," he replied. "That is a matter which may or may not come before the convention. Some of my friends have been kind enough to speak of me as a possibility, but I, of course, cannot discuss the matter."
Ex-Senator Fox is located at the Grand Union, where Mr. Palmer also is stopping. The Grand Union is to be the headquarters for most of the Democrats during next week's convention. David B. Hill has engaged quarters there, and will arrive Saturday afternoon. John B. Stanchfield also will arrive on Saturday, and at once will open headquarters. William P. Sheehan is expected at the same time. Perry Belmont has engaged a cottage at the States, and will arrive to-morrow or Saturday. August Belmont is expected Saturday. The Tammany contingent will be quartered largely at the Union, while most of the Kings County contingent will be at the States. Senator McCarren is expected tomorrow, his followers in the main to come here Monday. The Tammany leaders are expected Saturday afternoon. Charles F. Murphy will be accompanied by Congressman W. Bourke Cockran, ex-Senator Charles A. Towne, Senator Thomas F. Grady, and Corporation Counsel John J. Delany. Special trains bearing the rank and file of the Wilgwam contingent will get here Monday afternoon.

Taking for his text two editorial extracts, one from The New York Times and the other from The Brooklyn Eagle, Mr. Watterson in to-morrow's Courier Journal, will enter a protest against their method of dealing with the campaign and the National Committee. In an editorial headed, "How to Run the Campaign," it will say: "Will Mr. Ochs, will Mr. Miller, will Dr. McKelway, tell us just how they would run the campaign—what they would do and what they would not do, in case the whole business were turned over to them? Others, however, are equally interested with them in making no mistakes, in doing what is right and best, in electing the ticket. What, then, gentlemen, shall we do to be saved?"

ROOSEVELT PENSION ORDER DENOUNCED

Parker Constitution Club Holds It Unlawful.

BID FOR VETERAN VOTES

His Act Declared to be in Effect Au

Appropriation of the Nation's Money for His Campaign

The Parker Constitution Club of New York City, which has devoted several weeks to an investigation of alleged unlawful and unauthorized acts on the part of President toosevelt, issued its first report yesterday pertaining to the charges that the Executive pension order was unconstitutional. It es not criticise the wisdom or propriety of the United States pension laws, but assumes the right and duty of Congress to enact whatever system of pensions it deems proper. It considers the inquiry as to the propriety of the President's conduct in the nsion matter when measured by the constitutional standards.

The order in question was issued on darch 15, 1904, about three months before is nomination. The pertinent part is as

Ordered.—(1.) In the adjudication of pension claims under said act of June 27, 1890, as amended, it shall be taken and considered as an evidential fact, if the contrary does not appear and if all other legal requirements are properly methat, when a claimant has passed the age of sixty-two years, he is disabled one-half in ability to perform manual labor and is entitled to be rated at $50 per month; after sixty-rive years, at $10 per month, after sixty-rive years, at $10 per month, and after seventy years, at $12 per month.

That an executive act of the President is unconstitutional where authority for it cannot be found stated in the United States Constitution is not to be disputed. On that head we need only refer the reader to our preliminary general report. The authority asserted for issuing the order in question is the clause in Article II., Section 8, which provides that the President "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

No Power to Nullify.

Of this clause the Supreme Court of the United States, which is the authority to construe the Constitution, said in the case of Kendal vs. United States (reported in 12 Peters, 524,) that? "To contend that the obligation imposed on the President to see the laws faithfully executed implies a power to forbid their execution is a novel construction of the Constitution and en-tirely inadmissible." This is but a judicial statement of what is common sense. If, under the guise of carrying out a statute of Congress, President Rooseveit nullifies one of its provisions, he is guilty on the charge.

The order in question is practically an announcement that the department will announcement that the department will announcement that the department will give a pension certificate to every applicant sixty-two years old. Such was the evident intention of the Executive, as it is beyond intelligent supposition that anybody sixty-two years old who applied for a pension would trouble the department with affirmative proof that he was not disabled. Hence the question of the constitutionality of the President's act depends upon whether the statute of Congress granted pensions because a man was sixty-two. If not, the order becomes a faithless departure from the law instead of a faithful execution of it.

The following extract from the statutes in point will be clear to every one. We The following extract from the statutes in point will be clear to every one. We append to our report the full text of the statutes, to show the accuracy and fairness of our extracts, as in a matter of this importance nothing is to be taken for granted.

on Jan. 29, 1887, Congress had enacted as follows, regarding pensions for those in the Mexican war:

Section 1. That the Secretary of the Interior e and he is hereby authorized and directed to lince on the pension rolls the names of the surpusce on the pension rolls the names of the surviving officers and enlisted men * * who, being duly enlisted, actually served sixty days ". * in Mexico * * in the war with that nation or were actually engaged in a battle in asid war, * * provided that every such officer, enlisted man * * who is or may become subject to any disability or dependency equivalent to some cause prescribed or recognized by the pension laws of the United States as a sufficient reason for the allowance of a pension, shall be entitled to the benefits of this act. Section 3. That before the name of any person shall be placed on the pension roll under this act proof shall be made under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe of the right of the applicant to a pension. By this act Congress, in express terms By this act Congress, in express terms, pensioned every survivor of the Mexican war either sixty-two years old or disabled. It was passed just thirty-nine years after that war was concluded. Every soldier who was at least twenty-three years old when the war ended was thus expressly within its terms, and was intended so to be. Within five years after the act had taken effect every soldier of the war was within its terms, whether disabled or not, because he must have "become sixty-two years of age."

Civil War Pension Act.

Three years after this statute Congress passed a statute relating to the civil war, which is the act mentioned in President

Roosevelt's order. It provided:

That ail persons who served ninety days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late war of the rebellion and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and who are new or who may hereafter be suffering from shy mental or physical disability or disabilities of a permanent character, not the result of their own victous habits, which so incapacitates them from the performances of manual labor as to render them unable to earn a support, shall upon making due proof of the fact, according to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may provide, be placed upon the list of invalid pensioners of the United States, and be entitled to receive a pension not exceeding $12 per month, and not less than $5 per month, proportioned to the degree of inability to earn a support.

Observe the difference between the two not less than $8 per month, proportioned to the degree of inability to earn a support.

Observe the difference between the two statutes. Regarding the Mexican war, Congress prescribed that any one who was sixty-two years old or disabled should receive a pension. In regard to the civil war, Congress prescribed that any one who was so permanently disabled as to render him unable to earn support by the performance of manual labor should receive a pension, but no pension was granted for age.

Fourteen years after the civil war statute was passed, the President's pension order was issued from the office of the Secretary of the Interior. The period that had then elapsed after the civil war was about the same as the period elapsed after the Mexican war, when Congress gave a pension for age to survivors of that war. The time had arrived for Congress to do the same thing, if such was the will of Congress, for survivors of the civil war. No such statute was enacted. Nevertheless, the President by an executive order, deliberately and arbitrarily substituted the terms of the dexican war act, when the two were diametrically different upon the statute book of the United States. His order nulliof the civil war act, when the two were diametrically different upon the statute book of the United States. His order nullified the requirement of incapacity, expressly placed by Congress in the civil war statute, except so far as it relates to men under sixty-two. Without further discussion it becomes manifest that this was an intentional departure from the law, and that the charge should be sustained.

Much has appeared in the public prints about the order of the Pension Bureau issued under Mr. Cleveland's Administration. This order prescribed seventy-five years of age. We need not discuss the question whether that order was justifiable; certainly it was unimportant. The different and the content of the content of the different and the civil was a summortant. The different and the civil was a summortant. years of age. We need not discuss the question whether that order was justifiable; certainly it was unimportant. The difference between that order and the later one, for which it serves as an excuse, is that the former was in accordance with common knowledge, while the latter was both against common knowledge and against the construction which Congress had put upon its own acts. At sixty-twe a man may be, and usually is, able to perform manual labor; at seventy-five he is not. And Congress had recognized the former fact when in the Mexican war statute it gave a pension to men either sixty-two or disabled. The first order may be justified as a legitimate rule of evidence for the convenience of the department, and within the scope of the statute. The second was the creation of a new class of pensioners, whom Congress had not pensioned.

The usurpation of legislative power by President Roosevelt is humorously illustrated in the words of Gen. Black at the recent encampment of the Grand Army, when he thanked the President for what he had done and urged his hearers to use their influence that a law might be passed to the same effect.

Extent of Usurpation.

To consider next the extent of this Executive usurpation. Almost every veterar of the civil war is to-day at least sixtytwo years old. The very last will be so within the next four or five years. The actual effect of the order has been to appropriate at least $72 per annum of the actual effect of the order has been to appropriate at least $72 pdr annum of the Nation's money to every human being who was connected with a regiment for three months in the civil war. The total amount it will never be possible to measure in exact dollars and cents. Figure up the number of men now living who were connected with the army or navy for ninety days in the civil war and who are not disabled. give each of them $72 a year as a minimum, or $144 a year as a maximum, and we have the sum tottal. Estimates have been made at $12,000,000 per annum. The Pension Commissioner has insisted that $5,400,000 per annum will be a more approximate figure. It seems that there are about 182,000 survivors of the war not on the pension rolls prior to this Executive order. If all these were to be placed on the rolls, the result would be about $15,000,000 per annum. If the chosen Representatives of the United States in Congress assumbled had desired to appropriate $15,000,000 per annum, or any other sum, to such a class of pension-ers—men exactly as well able to earn their living as anybody else sixty-two years of age—that was their right. It was not the President's.

age—that was their values of the case President Roose-yelt deliberately disregarded Article I., Sec-tion 9, of the Constitution, providing: "No money shall be drawn from the Treasury véit deliberately disregarded Article I., Section 9, d' the Constitution, providing: "No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law." When Congress appropriates money for the payment of pensions, it provides for pensioners who have been placed on the rolls "under the provisions of any and all acts of Congress." The President is prohibited from authorizing a dollar to be paid out of such appropriation except to a pensioner created by law.

If Congress authorizes the building of one battleship and five cruisers and then appropriates a lump sum for construction purposes, no one would pretend that the President could use the money for the construction of five battleships and one croiser. So, if Congress appropriates a lump sum for the payment of pensions, and if the existing statute authorizes the payment of pensions to those who can establish that they are "suffering from any mental or physical disability or disabilities of a permanent character," which so incapacitates them from the performance of manual labor as to render them unable to earn a support," the President is forbiace by the Constitution to expend the money thus appropriated for the payment of pensions to one who is not "suffering from any mental or physical disability," or who is not incapacitated for the payment of pensions to one who is not "unable to earn a support."

Congress did not authorize the appropriation of pension certificates obtained on that score by President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury is an illegal license by which that official permits the money of the Nation to be abstracted.

It is a fair inference that the action of President Roosevelt, three months before his nomination, was a bid for the pension rove. If Judge Parker should to-day announce that his Pension Commissioner, when appointed, would give a certificate to anybody who was sixty years old, and that his Secretary of the Treasury would honor the certificate, the reception of such a pronunciament ob ythe people of this co

Inst?

Indeed, the President's act is far more serious, because he has, without warrant of law and seizing the opportunity of office, in effect appropriated the Nation's money for his own campaign fund.

We opnclude that the order was unconstitutional, lawless, and most reprehensible. Reports to be issued later on will deal with other specific instances wherein the club believes that the President has acted-unlawfully. It considers itself in duty bound to bring such cases clearly to the attention of the people of the country, and particularly the members of the bar. to look after the work of the club, one of the more important being a Committee Supervision consisting of William B. OLNEY NOT A CANDIDATE. Positively Refuses to Run for Governor of Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Sept. 15,-At a meeting of the Democratic State Committee here this afternoon to arrange for the Fall campaign oth William L. Douglas of Brockton and Charles S. Hamlin of Boston were favored for the nomination for Governon. No vote was taken on the matter.

The consideration of the question of the next Gubernatorial nominee was made nec-essary because Col. William A. Gaston, who twice has been the party's candidate inequivocally announced his determination not to run this year. A feature of the meeting was the announcement that Rich ard Olney, whose nomination for Governor had been urged in political circles, had absolutely declined to become the nominee under any circumstances.

HILL GOES DOWN TOWN TO CALL UPON JEROME

Both Silent Later About the Governorship.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY MAY RUN

A Whirlwind Campaign the Probable Re sult of Such a Nomination-Jerome's Views on Issues Sought.

When questioned on Wednesday in regard to his attitude toward the prospective nomi-nation of himself for Governor District Attorney Jerome replied: "I will not look up any one. If they want me they've got Shortly before noon yesterday ex-Senator David B. Hill, who reasonably might be expected to have a word or two to say regarding the Gubernatorial nomination, walked into the Criminal Courts Building and sent his card to the District Attorney. The Democratic State leader and Mr. Jerome remained in conference for more than an hour and a half. When it was over neither would say a word by way of throwing light on the purport of their talk.

When ex-Senator Hill walked out of the building he left behind him an air of suppressed excitement. Following closely up the arrival of Judge Parker in the city and on the very eve of the conference of Demo-cratic leaders in this city for the purpose of discussing a candidate for Governor, the visit of ex-Senator Hill was considered as of extraordinary significance, and it was to offer Mr. Jerome the nomination.

A friend of Senator Hill explained last night that while this presumption, perhaps, was somewhat premature, inasmuch as all the leaders had not yet been heard from, he would not be surprised if they should make Mr. Joseph their children to Descent make Mr. Jerome their choice for Democ racy's banner bearer in the coming State campaign. From all appearances, the Democratic leader came to the Criminal Courts Building an unheralded and altogether unexpected visitor. It was a few minutes before 12 o'clock when he made his appearance, accompanied by his private secretary, Alfred E. Bryan. Entering an elevator, he was taken to the third floor. Mr. Hill was recognized by several persons in the building, and the news of his visit spread like wildfire, with the result that the ante-room of Mr. Jerome's office soon was crowded with persons who gathered there to await the outcome of the call.

As Mr. Jerome came hurrying up the cor-ridor and saw Senator Hill, he held out his hand and said warmly: "Why, good morning, Governor; I am very glad to see you. How are you this morning?" Mr. Hill shook the District Attorney's hand cordially. The two linked arms and walked toward the inner sanctur of Mr. Jerome, and the next moment the door of the office was closed. It was an hour and a half later when the door opened again and ex-Senator Hill appeared, accompanied by Mr. Jerome, who whether he was the bearer of a message to the District Attorney offering him the comination for Governor. "I cannot talk about the conferen said the ex-Senator, "but isn't this a fine "Did you discuss politics with Mr. Je rome, or was your call in reference private business?"

"Do you think Mr. Jerome would make good candidate for Governor?" 'It is a fine day.' Mr. Hill repeated his assertion regarding the weather in response to other questions along the same lines. When pressed for direct reply he said:

Gentlemen, I can not and and will not talk regarding what transpired between Mr. Jerome and me." Asked whether there would be any further conference during he day, the Democratic lea "This is a very nice place, but I would not advise you to wait for me.' Mr. Hill then left the building. A few minutes later Mr. Jerome came out, his face all wreathed in smiles. When the reporters clustered about him preparatory asking questions, Mr. Jerome favored them with the following selection:

I don't care for Wurzburger beer; I would rather have gasoline. Pressed for some information as to what was discussed between him and Senator Hill, Mr. Jerome jokingly replied: "Can't two statesmen get together and discuss affairs of vast public interest without emissaries of the press butting in and wanting to know what it is all about? I consider this an intrusion into our private matters."

Mr. Jerome then averred that the fin weather Senator Hill had just been telling the newspaper men about had given him a immense appetite, and that the most press cravings of the inner man.

Mr. Jerome said he could not discuss any shape, form, or manner what had ocurred between himself and ex-Senator Hill, Do you expect to see Judge Parker during his present stay in the city?" Mr. Jerome was asked. "I have not been invited to see Judge Parker, and I do not expect to see him. I footstool, to tell the truth."

Mr. Jerome remained in the same happy frame of mind throughout the afternoon, portion of which was spent in conferen with his private secretary, Mr. Hodder, and Chief Clerk Henneberry, who was the ager of Mr. Jerome's campaign when he ran for District Attorney.

While, as far as any utterance from Mr Jerome and his friends is concerned, the attitude of the District Attorney toward the nomination is a matter of co it was learned from a source close to thos who have the active management of the ampaign that Mr. Jerome would accept the nomination if it were tendered to him. isit of Senator Hill, it was said, was large ly for the purpose of learning Mr. Jerome views on the various issues in the National and State campaign and toward State is-sues to be defined in the platform to be adopted at Saratoga next week.

HALL WITHDRAWS CANDIDACY. Does Not Want the Democratic Nomina tion for Controller.

Special to The New York Times PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 15.—It is stated here that Mayor George Hall of Ogdensburg, who all along has been a candi date for the nomination for Controller or the Democratic State ticket, has withdrawn from the race, and has also resigned from

It is stated that Mr. Hall, to whom the Controllership nomination had been practically offered, decided instead to be a candidate for Secretary of State, because his health would not stand the work and worry of the Controllership. When told that it was too late, and that he must take the nomination for Controller or nothing, he decided to withdraw from politics en-tirely.

Westchester Democratic Delegates The Democrats of Westchester County have sent the following delegates to the convention at Saratoga: First District, E. W. Fisk and R. G. Merritt; Second District, F. Sheimer, J. G. Agar, and T. O'Neill; Third District, F. Larkin, M. Clune, and T. Green.

JERSEY DEMOCRATS NAME BLACK FOR GOVERNOR

Enthusiastic Convention Nominates Hudson County Man.

DEMAND

EQUAL TAXATION

Platform's Feature a Strong Plank for Assessment of Railroad Corporations -Rivalry for Committee Jobs.

Special to The New York Times. TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 15 .- Democrats o New Jersey in State Convention to-day nominated Charles C. Black of Hudso County, a member of the State Board of Taxation, for Governor; declared unequi cally for equal taxation, and pledged the party to right the wrongs of unjust assess ments and tax levies upon real estate.

The conference, with 1,070 delegates in addition to the thousands of spectators. was notable for its enthusiasm. The men tion of Judge Parker's name by Mr. John R. Hardin, the Chairman, was met by an outburst of applause lasting ten minutes, and the crowd shouted itself tired over th Presidential nominee. New Jersey Democrats, especially those in the upper section of the State, who came in contact with New Yorkers think that this is the winning year. A notable instance of the spirit of the campaign is shown by the fact that the Essex delegation came down from Newark 1,000 strong, while Hudson County con tributed as many more spectators. Nearly every prominent Democrat in the State was present either as delegate or onlooker. Ex-Senator James Smith, Jr., con troiled the convention in every particular, although he bowed to Robert Davis of Hudson, and acquiesced in the nomination of Mr. Black, who is not an acceptable candidate to him. The Smith influence brought William J. Thompson and the Camden delegation into line for Black as against Thompson's neighbor, Senator Chomas Ferrell.

The candidacy of the Gloucester County enator was the only sign of friction, an his friends managed to poll 31 votes in Atlantic, 16 in Cape May, and 21 in Glouces ter for him. Senator Ferrell was placed in omination by George W. Harb good speech, but his name with withdrawn after the compliment of a vote was given This was also the case with the names o FranksKatzenbach of Trenton. Mr. Black's The feature of the platform was the demand for equal taxation. In this connection the platform said:

mand for equal taxation. In this connection the platform said:

We demand equal taxation of all property not used for religious, charitable, or educational purposes. The franchises of railroad and canal companies are granted by the State, and it is fair that taxes upon these privileges should be paid into the common treasury of the State. The real estate of these corporations presents no feature that justifies a separate classification as to the amount of tax to be imposed. The railroads of New Jersey are not infant industries. They are of great value to the State, but they are also of great value to their owners. To tax the vacant city lot and the unproductive farm and exempt the property of railroad and canal companies is not only unfair, but is in direct violation of the spirit of our State Constitution, which demands that property shall be taxed by uniform rules.

The Republican Party has broken every pledge of equal taxation that it has made to the people. It never gets beyond the appointment of a commission to inquire. We assert that the day of inquiry is past. The State is in possession of the facts. What inquiry is needed to demonstrate that the buildings and road beds and tracks in Atlantic and Buffington, in Essex and Hudson, and in every other county in the State should pay the same local tax that is imposed upon other real estate in these counties? Every factory, every farm, every home in New Jersey is taxed at full local rates. Why, then, should exemption of railroad property continue?

A feature of the gathering was the great anxiety to become members of the State Committee. The convention adopted a reso-

SHOES for Everybody

With Savings On All No one ever found a mean shoe in a Wanamaker Sale, no matter how little the price. We never bought shoes that were made up cheaply to be sold in a sale.

While it is true that the best offerings of this Sale are shoes made up for us during the Summer, they are from one of our regular factories, and have been made up to the full standard of shoes made to be sold at much higher prices. There has been no cheapening in either the quality of the leather or workmanship. The exceedingly low prices have been secured by reason of using the dull times in factory and allowing an exceptionally close margin of

This produces shoes that are spic-span, new, in the present season's styles, in full range of sizes, that sell at a third below their

There are other groups in the Sale where the sizes are broken and the prices are still more radically reduced. busy, to have this repair work There is something in such a great collection as this sure to suit every one who is needing shoes: Women's Patent Coltskin Shoes at $2.20 Lace style; square cut vamps with dull tops; oak leather soles welted and titched. Sold for less than maker's cost.

Kidskin Lace and Button Shoes, with kid and patent leather tips; lasts are pretty, and heels the graceful Cuban style.

Box Caliskin Lace; stout business or school shoes; full round toe, square military

These shoes are all made to the rigid Wanamaken specifications, and are practically as good as shoes that sell regularly at a dollar more. Men's Patent Leather Shoes at $1,90

Just here, a new shoe—single oak soles, welted and flexible; soft patent leather with dull tops; all sizes, but only broad widths. A neat dress shoe. Plenty of the box calf and kidskin shoes are here also.

Then in full supply Women's Shoes at $1.90 a Pair

Kidskin, button; plain common-sense Kidskin, button and lace; kid tips, military heels. Patent leather, button and lace; medium and light weight, slim last, Cuban Kidskin dress shoes: patent leather tips; neat military heels. All made with oak-tanned soles, full vamps and silk stitching.

Women's Shoes at $2.60 a Pair Patent leather, lace; kidskin, button and lace, in ten styles. Hardly any shoeneed that you cannot fill from this lot. And they are fairly worth a third more than $2.60.

INDEMNITY OF $500,000,000

Russia to Hand Over All Her Ships in Chinese Waters-Japanese Advance from Yen-Tai.

LONDON, Friday, Bept. 16.-The Daily graphs that he hears from a trustworthy ource that the Japanese Foreign Minister has issued a circular announcing that it is Japan's intention to turn Port Arthur, when it is captured, and the whole of the Liao-Tung Peninsula over to the Chinese, who, the correspondent understands, will clare Port Arthur an open port.

"On the same authority," The Daily egraph's correspondent says, told that Japan will be prepared to entertain peace proposals after she has taken Mukden and Sakhalin on the following

'First, that an international syndicate ake over the Manchurian Railway and run it as a strictly commercial enterprise; sec nd, that Russia pay £100,000,000 indemnity and, third, that Russia is to hand over all of her ships in Chinese water to Japan. "Japan would be prepared to lease Saknalin to an American company for

ST. PETERSBURG, Friday, Sept. 16 .den. Kuropatkin telegraphed yesterday that strong detachments of Japanese infantry had advanced three miles north of Yen-Tai station.

Viceroy Alexieff has forwarded to the Czar a dispatch from Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, (commander of the military forces at Port

The dispatch, which is dated Sept. 14, says the Japanese are actively constructing fortifications on Samhon Mountain and at other points, and that they continue to abard the forts and harbor. On Sept. 2 they threw 250 shells into the town. During the bombardment the Japanese squadron remained the whole time in view of the

The Japanese, the dispatch adds, have issued a proclamation to the Russian troops demanding their surrender. Gen. Stoessel sees in this proclamation an indication of the enemy's consciousness of

On Sept. 3, the General says, the enemy received reinforcements on the west front of the fortress.

MUKDEN, Sept. 15 .- The panicky conditions prevailing immediately after the bat-tle of Lizo-Yang have entirely disappeared from the Russian army now concentrated here. Business has been resumed and the city is quiet. The Russo-Chinese Bank has

The failure of the Japanese to follow up the advantage gained at Liao-Yang has caused surprise here. An independent authority who accompanied the rear guard from the positions south of Liao-Yanag to Mukden says that this failure is accounted for by the fact that the Japanese lost 10,000 killed and wounded in one day's fighting and that, besides, they were too tiried to continue the advance.

The Japanese are reported to be intrench ing around Liao-Yang, and to have repaired the bridge over the Tai-Tse River. Twelve thousand soldiers wounded at Liao-Yang have been treated at the Red Cross Hospital here.

CRITICISM SURPRISES JAPAN. Wonders Why Greater Victory at Liac-Yang Was Expected.

LONDON TIMES-NEW YORK TIMES Special Cablegram.
Copyright, 1904, THE NEW YORK TIMES. TOKIO, Sept. 14.-Leading Japanese journals are much surprised by the change in sentiment which, it is reported, has been produced in England by the news of the Liao-Yang battle. They observe that Japan is fighting, not to win the applicuse of the nations, but to secure her own existence and the peace of the East. Therefore she is not greatly concerned over the character of the estimates of foreign peoples, but she is deeply interested in the sentiment of England, her ally, to whom she owes so

Consequently, it is said, it becomes the duty of Japan to consider why the prospects of the war are no longer regarded by the British with the same confidence as previously.

The prime purpose of Japan in the re cent battle was, it is observed, to drive the Russians out of Liao-Yang, which is the richest town in Manchuria, the chief emporium for local supplies and foodstuffs, and the principal strategical base. Therefore Russia steadily concentrated forces there in increasing numbers, constructed strong fortifications, and showed an unmistakable intention of converting Liao-Yang into a permanent base. Gen. Kuropatkin announced that he hoped to make a successful stand there and promised the Czar that he would fight a decisive battle from that position.

Not only were the Russians expelled after many days of hard fighting with a loss of at least 25,000 men, but they were also compelled to burn and abandon ammunition and provisions in such quantities that to make good the loss will demand several months' work on the Siberian Railway.

Thus, it is declared, the strategical material, and moral consequences of the battle are most serious. It is true that the victory would have been more signal had the Russians been enveloped and annihilated, but such a result could not reasonably be expected when the forces were nearly equal and the Russians had the enormous advantage of a position deliberately chosen and fortified by many months of labor.

All this, it is remarked, is unquestionably appreciated by thoughtful Englishmen. Nevertheless London dispatches suggest that, although Gen. Kuropatkin was driven out of a valuable position and signally defeated, yet British faith in Japanese strategy has been shaken and the final issue of the war is considered more doubtful.

It is surmised by the press here that it is not English opinion that has changed, but the tone of the war correspondents. who are thought to be dissatisfied because they have not obtained larger facilities. It is admitted that Japanese ofaldom has not shown the highest tact in the treatment of correspondents, some of whom, nevertheless, have retained undiminished respect for the justice and imparitality of the authorities, perceiving that individual aims must be subor dinated to national interests.

Others, however, are gradually becom ing inimical, and have telegraphed statements and appreciations which cannot possibly have been based on actual obfounded on hearsay, colored by prejudice The Japanese journals express their firm belief that the English Nation will not allow these accidents to warp its

Annihilated Near Kamchatka. ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 15 .- The Em peror has received the following from Viceroy Alexieff, dated Sept. 14: dispatch from Yakutsk, (Eastern Siberia.) dated Aug. 13, said the Kommander Islands (off the coast of Kamchatka) had been besieged by Japanese and British schooners and steamers up to July 28. Two of these schooners and the steamers were armed with guns. In driving them off ten Japanese were killed and many We sustained no loss.

"Near Kamchatka, five Japanese fishing nooners have been burned. Their crews were annihilated.

The Japanese announced the annexation of the territory and proclaimed it a Jap anese protectorate. They were subsequently captured by 120 Russian reserves.

"Kamchatka remains true to her old tra-ditions. The inhabitants have taken up arms and are ready to shed their blood for their faith, their Czar, and their Father The Kommander Islands are the islands for the protection of which against depred-atory expeditions arrangements were made

It is considered probable that the ves was trying to run the blockade.

The recent movements of the British bark Lucia are not given in the available shipping registers.

ACCIDENT TO RAINBOW.

Cornelius Vanderbilt's 70-Footer Sprung Boom on Crossing Line.

An accident to Cornelius Vanderbilt's sloop Rainbow at the start stopped the match race of the seventy-footers yesterday. As the Rainbow was crossing the line the main sheet slipped from the bit and let the sail off with a run. The boom struck the backstay and was sprung, so the Rainbow was put out of the race. The Virginia, the only other starter, at once came up in the wind and returned to her moorings. When R. A. C. Smith's steam yacht Privateer, with the Regatta Committee of the New York Yacht Club aboard, entered Hempstead Harbor, about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a gale from the northwest was sweeping across Long Island Sound. The Virginia, under topsail and jib, from City Island, preceded her into the harbor,

The Rainbow was anchored near the west shore, and the Yankee tugged at her moorings behind the breakwater on the east shore, but neither showed any signs of making sail. The Sound was frosted with cudding along under scant canvas. The Virginia ran alongside of the Rainbow, and both began to make sail. The former put two reefs in her mainsail, but the latter spread the whole cloth. They came for the line without topsails, and with staysails up in stops, while the Yankee lay quietly at anchor.

The starting signal was given at 2:10, and the Rainbow went over the line 50 seconds later. Just then the accident happened. The Virginia crossed 51 seconds after the Rainbow and speedily ranged up alongside of her. As soon as the Virginia's owner, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., learned the nature of the accident to his competitor he chivalrously abandoned the race

The Rainbow was towed back to City Island by Cornelius Vanderbilt's steam yacht Mirage. She will ship the Mineola's boom and the match races will be sailed next week.

ALBERTO WON AT READVILLE.

New York Trotter Defeated the Favorite in Unfinished 2:14 Race.

mmense downpour of rain in the morning, the Readville track was in good shape for the races this afternoon. Sonata was a big favorite for the unfinished 2:14 trotting event from Tuesday, but the New York gelding, Alberto, proved surprise by taking both to-day's heats and the race. Grace Bond won the colt race handily, only losing the second heat by a break at the distance flag, when it looked as though she was going easily in the lead. She was the favorite The 2:14 pacing class was closely contested the judges having much difficulty in separating the leading horses at the wire in two of the heats. Barnetta B., the winner, was the second choice. Euxenite had little trouble in taking first money in the 2:18 trotting event, much t the delight of the form players. The 2:12 trot ting race was left unfinished on account of dark ness. Invader was favorite. Both of the hear decided were productive of thrilling finishes be tween three of the foremost horses. #### WEST INDIAN CYCLONE WORKS WIDE HAVOC

City Suffers Severely in Early Morning Downpour.

SHIPPING DAMAGED WORST

Schooners Collide in Lower Bay, and Shore Strewn with Wrecks-New Jersey Feels Effects.

What Local Forecaster Emery calls West Indian cyclone, which had joined forces way down the coast somewhere with a full-grown lake storm headed eastward, arrived in town early yesterday morning and stayed for a couple of hours or so, smashing in plate glass windows, demolishing trees, and playing all sorts of havo with telephone, telegraph, and electric light wires. In the harbor shipping of all kinds suffered severely, and daybreak found the near-by coasts strewn with small craft. At the Flatiron Building, at Broadway and Twenty-third Street, the big show windows of the cigar store on the ground floo of that building were smashed and cigars, tobacco, and smokers' novelties valued a $4,000 were blown into the street. Harlem suffered quite as much as other parts of the city. Almost all the windows of Public School No. 5, at One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street and Edgecombe Avenue, were broken in on the west side of the building, the rain pouring in and flooding the floors. Brooklyn suffered severely by the storm streets and cellars being flooded, buildings damaged, fences, trees, and poles blown down and traffic seriously interfered with in all parts of the Borough. Several houses were unroofed by the gale. The fashionable . Heights neighborhood was roused from its slumber shortly after 4 o'clock by a terrific crash, caused by the partial unroofing of the house of Dr. James O'Connell at 159 Remsen Street, two doors from the house of Hugh McLaughlin. The wind had rapped up the tin on the roof, and after turning it over until it had formed a wind had rpped up the tin on the roof, and after turming it over until it had formed a huge roll had hurled the mass over into the street. Three houses in Degraw Street, near Van Brunt, were also partially unrocfed by the wind.

The lower harbor presented the appearance of a ships' graveyard yesterday morning. Early light revealed small craft of every description on the beaches, while just outside of Sandy Hook the masts of the schooner Hattle V. Kelsey, standing out of the water, showed where she had sunk, after having been in collision with the three-masted schooner Hattle H. Benedict.

The small freight steamer Eagle, which piles between New York and South Norwalk, Conn., was beaten ashore at Long Neck Point, near Norwalk, where she pounded so hard that her seams opened and she filled with water. At Oyster Bay a big lumber-laden schooner bound for New York was wrecked about a mile north of Centre Island. When day dawned the crew of four men were seen from shore clinging to the wreck. Rear Commodore W. J. Matheson of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club put out in his launch and rescued them.

The 65-foot sloop yacht Spindrift, belong-to the wreck. Rear Commodore W. J. Matheson of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club put out in his launch and rescued them.

The 65-foot sloop yacht Spindrift, belonging to Durham Wheeler, Rear Commodore of the Knickerbocker Yacht Club, was driven onto the meadows at Oyster Bay, but not badly damaged. The owner, his wife, and daughter were rescued after a hard night, on the yacht.

The yachts anchored in the cove just in front of the ...diantic Yacht Club at Coney Island Point suffered severely and four of them went ashore. The 50-foot sloop Orion, belonging to T. F. Buck, broke her hawser during the storm and drove ashore directly in front of the clubhouse. She struck the breakwater and tore away her bowsprit. Her owner, his wife, and two children were aboard, and when the vessel struck the crew grabbed Mrs. Buck and the children and managed to get them ashore, though almost drowned.

In New Jersey the storm's damage was widespread. Trees were uprooted, windows smashed in scores of houses, and telephone and telegraph wires badly messed up. The service of the Public Service Corporation was crippled in several places, and it was not until well into the day yesterday that its lines were fully in operation again.

All the electric lights in Morristown were extinguished during the storm. A bridge of the Rockaway Valley Railroad was carried away near Mendham, and traffic on the road was stopped in consequence. Thousands of dollars worth of fruit was torn from the trees at Vineland, and the streets were rendered almost impassable by fallen branches. One branch crashed through a window of the Rev. A. Manship's house, and fell on the bed in which he was sleeping, but did not injure him. The heaviest losers in Paterson will probably be the Bergen Construction Company, which is erecting the new West Street bridge. The company had the wooden false work erected for two spans, and was ready for the steel work. One arch was swept away. and the other will have to be reconstructed. The river rose rapidly to the danger point, b hours.

In the Oranges many of the finest trees were wrecked and thousands of birds were killed in Llewellyn and Hutton Parks. The mountain roads were rendered impassable until nearly midday by fallen trees and gullied roads.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J.. Sept. 15.—Edward Leahy, a man of sixty years, was found this morning under a large tree near Market Street, almost dead from exposure. He walked from Matawan to Perth Amboy yesterday afternoon and was drenched when he reached here. He had no money, and, tired and hungry, he sat down to rest. Fatigue overcame him, and he awoke during the night with the rain falling in torrents. When discovered Leahy was unable to move. It is thought that he will recover.

Special to The New York Times. MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.. Sept. 15.—The wind blew at the rate of seventy miles an hour over Westchester County during Wednesday night's storm, and did great damage to country estates of New Yorkers. On the places of John D. and William Rockefeller, in the town of Mount Pleasant, the wind uprooted many valuable trees which had been recently set out while imported shrubbery and plants were ruined. Many yachts at anchorage in Echo Bay, at New Rochelle, were damaged. A large sloop was blown on the shore of Echo Island, while a yawl and a sloop were washed on Iselin's Beach, near Hudson Park. Sound steamers and schooners had to seek shelter in Hog Bay, between City Island and Hart's Island, to escape being driven on the rocky shore.

COAST STREWN WITH WRECKS. Eight Drowned from Tug in the Delaware-Wind 100 Miles an Hour. WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 15.-In the terrific storm of rain and wind early this morning the tug Israel W. Durham was swamped in the Delaware River opposite this city, and eight men were drowned, They were the Captain, four of the crew, and four employes of the American Dredging Company. A fireman and one dredging employe were saved.

The sloop John Leonard and the schoon ers Joseph Mulford, Millie Frank, and Henry P. Havens, and the pilot boat Edmunds are ashore near the breakwater. According to the official record, the wind

According to the official record, the wind at the breakwater at 2:50 o'clock this morning blew at the rate of 100 miles an hour. The schooner E. C. Allen, from Philadelphia for Gardiner, Me., was blown ashore, and one of her crew, Eric Clare, was killed. The Captain and the remaining five members of the crew were saved by a wrecking vessel.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 15.—Newport was hit by a heavy wind and rain storm early to-day. The wind at one time reached the velocity of eighty miles an hour. Wires were broken down, only a single telephone line remaining. Fifteen small boats were driven ashore or damaged. The flagship Minneapolis and the Columbia and Prairie of the North Atlantic training squadron caught the full force of the gale and were obliged to let go all anchors. The vessels were not damaged.

DEMOCRATIC NEW YORK.

It is quite impossible at the present moment to say whether Mr. Higgins, nominated by the Republicans at Saratoga yesterday, is a strong candidate for Governor. We must wait until we see the name of the Democrat nominated to oppose him. Personally, by himself, Lieut, Gov. Higgins would be called a good ordinary, middling, off-year Republican candidate. In the judgment of a reputable community he ought to stand above BLACK, and of course far above Opera, and in the political conditions which carried those two gentlemen into office, he would be elected without effort and without any particular honor or credit.

The manner in which his nomination was brought about will hurt him much it ought to make his defeat certain. Mr. Higgins is not a man of sufficient amplitude to bear without visibly bending under it the frightful burden of BENJAMIN B. Opell's responsibility for his candi-

Mr. ODELL's behavior at Saratoga offers a theme for speculation which, perhaps, would not be very profitable. If he were burning with disappointment and were full of spite, rancor, and unappeasable hates toward the chief men of his own party; if he thought the de feat of the Republicans in New York probable, and wished to make it certain; if he felt that his own career was at an end and wished to do as much harm as possible to his enemies, his procedures at Saratoga would be understandable. They might be explained on the theory that he cherished the foolish delusion that a Roosevelt wave is to sweep over the country, carrying New York certainly into the Republican column, electing HIGGINS and establishing him as the triumphant boss of the State machine of which the Governor he has nominated would be only a part. Nor is it worth while to speculate upon the nature of the quarrel between him and Senator PLATT. It may have been real, it may have been merely a simulated row gotten up for some of those inscrutable purposes which seem important to the unaccountable minds of practical politicians. Whatever the truth may be, PLATT comes out of the affair in a condition to be pitied, but we imagine the number of persons in this State who will pity him is small indeed. We fear this was Mr. WoodRUFF's last chance at the Governorship, and it was not much of a chance at that.

The Republican Convention did the right and straightforward thing in nominating Judge Cullen and Judge WER-NER. The Democratic Convention would gain credit for itself and would undoubtedly strengthen its party by putting these names upon its own ticket. The hollowness and hypocrisy of the Republican attitude toward the canal improvement is revealed in the platform, which almost with ostentation and plainly with studied purpose refuses to approve the plan for the preservation and betterment of the canals, a plan approved and decreed by a popular majority of 300,000 votes. The platform merely says: "The people of the State have decreed that the canals shall be improved." That is all. Since the improvement of the canals has been the question before the people every Republican Governor has well understood that the counties from which his majorities came were obstinately, narrowly, and bitterly opposed to any expenditure for the keeping up of the State's great system of waterways. Mr. Higgins himself has a canal record without color, without courage, negative, balanced, cautious, crafty, and satisfactory to nobody. He comes from a county that is hostile to the canals. Mindful of his political welfare at home, Mr. Higgins has felt that the less said about the canals the better-for him. As a member of the Canal Board, however, he has seemed to take an interest in the barge canal improvement, a fact which we are very glad to mention, though we fear it will not strengthen him in Cattaraugus.

He would be a very blind Democrat indeed who did not see that fortune has literally flung a great opportunity at his party. It would be madness, it would be a political crime for the Democrats to lose this State election. The people fairly ache to install a Democratic Governor at Albany, for this reason among others, that they want to mark their want of confidence in the present Republican administration. They have long been in that temper, and they will certainly give themselves the joy of putting an end to Odellism if the Democrati nominate a candidate worthy of their trust. Many names have been under discussion by the Democracy. There has been frequent mention of Col. LAMONT, is still a margin for special discounts on of Mr. EDWARD M. SHEPARD, of DE LAN-CEY NICOLL, of District Attorney JEROME of Mr. GOODYEAR of Buffalo, of Judge KEOGH, and of Mr. STANCHFIELD. Other names have been heard, but these are enough. Wise Democrats know that the party need seek no further. We have repeatedly said that in our judgment Mr. SHEPARD should be the nominee of the Democrats this year. We think he would be the strongest candidate. We feel absolutely sure that he would serve the people ably and acceptably as Governor. Why should the Democracy grovel when it may soar? Why not take measures this year to lift the party to that high plane it occupied in the days of TILDEN?

A PARTY WITH A PAST.

The tone of President ROOSEVELT's letter pervades the platform adopted by the Republicans at Saratoga yesterday, just as it pervades all high Republican utterances this year. In them is all virtue; error, falsehood, and guile inhabit the other fellow.

This is a characteristic sentence from the Saratoga platform:

He [the President] has emphasized the fact that the Republican Party has made the gold standard irrevocable as long as it has control in spite of vicious assaults by the opposing party in two successive Presidential campaigns, and its refusal to change its attitude on this question at its recent National Convention

We must remind the authors of this document that the gold standard has never been abandoned or abolished. It was in full force and effect during the years when the Republican Party was given over body and soul to the silver delusion, just as it was in full force and effect during our civil war and after, when gold was said to be at a premium, meaning thereby that our paper currency was depreciated. The act of March. 1900, established nothing; it merely made statute law conform to nat-

But what possible guarantee can Mr ROOSEVELT give or can the authors of this platform give that the Republican Party will not go over to silver again if severe and protracted "hard times' should visit us? Mr. ROOSEVELT was a bimetallist, that is, a silver man. Speaker Cannon was a ranting, roaring silverite. The Republican silver law of 1890 brought on the panic of 1893. It was the uprising of a horde of Populists in the strong Republican States of the West that gave Mr. BRYAN his start and reinforced him mightily in his first campaign. Those Populist Republicans have gone back to their party. They might follow some new Bryan if one arose in times of stress and panic.

It is neither to the Republican Party, many of whose present chiefs were silver men, nor to the Democratic Party, which has only just recovered from the silver madness, that the business interests of the country look to maintain the gold standard law upon the statute books. It is upon the influence and the voice and vote of all men of common sense. Democrats as well as Republicans, that the country must depend to keep itself out of the bottomless financial quagmires into which Republicans like Mr. McKin-LEY, Speaker CANNON, and President ROOSEVELT, and Democrats like Mr. BRYAN and his ardent supporters would have tumbled it neck and heels could they have had their way.

IPON TRADE PEVIVAL

Discussing the present condition of the general markets for iron and steel, The

Iron Age says:

The all-absorbing question, whether the recent open reduction in the prices of finished materials has stimulated serious buying, cannot be answered definitely as yet. With due reserve, the statement may be made that thus far the indications are not particularly favorable. There has certainly not been any rush of buying.

This probably states the facts of the case exactly, but it is the view of the moment. Obviously, it requires something more than the establishment of a parity between actual and nominal quotations to start a revival in the iron trades. But whatever the external influences operative to produce such revival, they could not have become effective as long as prices were maintained on an artificial basis and buyers were waiting for just such a cut as the result of the increasing competition of the independent concerns with those merged in the Steel Corporation and other great

The way is now clear for a recovery of activity in iron and steel as soon as the great consuming interests recognize that the time has come to warrant purchases in proportion to the volume of their deferred requirements. That this is not far off, if not imminent, the position of the market shows. The current consumption of pig iron is markedly increasing. The foundry requirements are larger and an increased production of Bessemer pig is required. There is a good business in steel products, the volume of which is indicated by the fact that at the present time 80 per cent. of Corporation is utilized. This branch of its production is understood to be very closely adjusted to its current requirements for raw material. It is also significant that the lines comprised in the Harriman interest have lately placed orders for 100,000 tons of rails at the pool price. It was intended that this entire order should go to the Steel Corporation. but as the state of its order books did not permit it to promise as prompt deliveries as were needed, it was divided, and part of the order goes to the Colorado mills. These are far from disquieting conditions. As to prices, they are still a long way from "scraping bottom" for concerns well situated and equipped for a normal economy of production. There export orders.

A SMALL PARK FOR THE BRONX. The plan of the Scenic and Historic Society to have a small park established in the Bronx near the East River will meet with the approval of all who deplore the lack of forethought which has left great districts in Manhattan devoid of breathing spaces. Twelve years ago there was still land enough unincumbered north and west of Central Park to attract the serious attention of those who were pondering a great international fair, that same fair in fact which Chicago snatched from New York. The swiftness with which streets are laid out and houses thickly built appeals to the most improvident and warns us to prepare against the inevitable. The whole of the beautiful indented shore of the East River will be swallowed up by solid squares of masonry if provision is not made at once to keep certain spaces open for the public.

Small parks are boons to the people who live near them, especially to the poorer citizens who have to economize carfare. They reduce infant mortality during the Summer and offer relief to thousands who sleep in narrow rooms. To a large part of our population a distant park is no park at all, for parents cannot leave their work long enough to take their children to them, nor can they afford servants to conduct and watch over them. It is a great barbarity to allow any large tract of land to be built over without a park. And for the present the effort should be to establish many small parks with as much of elevation of view and of water front as possible according

In the little peninsula of Hunt's Point, as in the meadows and woods which lie about the old burying ground of the Hunt family, there is an ideal location for a park, small by comparison with Central and Van Cortlandt, but large enough to form one of a series of parks along the East River. The place has literary and historical suggestions. Hither Joseph Rodman Drake and Fitz-GREENE HALLECK used to come by the land way of Harlem or by boat through Hell Gate to visit their friends, the HUNTS of Hunt's Point. Here DRAKE penned some of his sweetest youthful poems and here he begged to be laid when the disease that cut him off at twenty-five showed that it was not to be cured. DRAKE was born in New York, and in New York he died. It is fitting that the city should have a memorial of him, and what could be more suitable to a poet who loved nature than a park full of flowers and trees?

The author of "The Culprit Fay" and The American Flag" and the musing lines on the Bronx River has waited long for public recognition of his fame, which is built on slender foundations so far as output is concerned, but evidently on more enduring foundations than many of longer career and wide popularity in their day. It is a happy inspiration of the Scenic and Historic Society to advocate a park in that spot to surround his modest monument and to be called after his name. It is to be hoped that the Municipal Government vill see the rare opportunity that is offered at Hunt's Point to secure a small park with a water front and view and at the same time honor the young poet and wit who as Croaker Senior amused and mystified the little town in the columns of The Evening Post some four-score years ago. We have a Bryant and an Audubon Park, also an Irving Place; we have a monument to FITZ-GREENE HAL-LECK, but for the boy who wrote a little epic of fairyland unique in the English tongue, one that never fails to delight the young of heart and all admirers of beautiful simple verse, there is no tablet, no statue, no sign of public recognition, though children still learn by heart what he wrote. That indeed is a recognition. and one given to very few save the very

CARING FOR MONUMENTS.

Premature may be the rejoicing of esteemed contemporaries because the guardianship over Liberty Enlightening the World has been assumed by the National Government, for, while it may mean that the approaches to the big statue will be improved and possibly the elevator which ought to lift one to the head of the colossal maiden will be installed, yet in other respects the new management may be deficient. One may observe the architecture of the Government, and, if judicious, grieve. One may be affected sadly when doing so innocent a thing as affixing a stamp, because of the ugliness of the article. One may gaze with dismay at our coins, perceiving a goddess with sour grimace, a double chin, and the back and top of her head conspicuous by their absence. And having thus close to hand the proofs of artistic imbecility at Washington, are we to suppose that the Liberty will escape, now that she has fallen into the hands of the Philistines? Will she not be scraped and sandpapered out the iron-producing capacity of the Steel of that fine patina of varying shades of green which the kindly fogs and rains. the willing winds, slowly, year by year, bearing sulphurous fumes from Bayonne on their bosom, have drawn over her majestic face and form? Some army officer trained to watch that sword belts shine and buckles are burnished will fall upon the Maid of Sulphury Mists and exalt his horn because he has ruined the beauty of weathered bronze with putzpomade. Every now and then there is an irruption of letters to the press on the subject of cleaning the bronze statues in Central Park; but if the writers realized into what hands the cleansing of these bronzes are likely to fall they would not sfir in the matter. Only experts should ouch bronzes, and experts are not cheap To turn monuments over to common laborers is to have them defaced in a peculiarly exasperating way. It is to avoid this mauling of the delicate surface of their work by inexperienced hands that sculptors here and abroad often resort to gilding their statues. The National Government as well as Municipal Governments should have in their employ certain persons who know how bronze and marble should be treated so that the fine qualities produced by weathering shall not be lost. Cleaning is necessary from time to time; but it must be done with infinite discretion.

ATMOSPHERIC FOOLISHNESS.

Summer ended on Wednesday night with wholly unnecessary emphasis. A day of August temperature was followed by the wildest kind of a night, charac terized by a paroxysmal outpouring of rain, a lightning bombardment comparable to that which Port Arthur has experienced since its investment, and wind which performed a skirt dance up and down the Atlantic Coast with perilous velocity.

This abrupt transition from Summer to Autumn may have been a beneficent provision of nature to facilitate the calling in of the helated straw hat, but that result, however desirable, might have been accomplished in other and less costly ways. Besides, nature need not concern herself so seriously about a matter which social conventions take care of with sufficient promptness and insistence to meet the exigent requirements of humanity. Everything considered, the storm was a display of what Mark Twain happily characterized in his account of the climate of California as "atmospheric foolishness.'

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

-Fierce fault is found by The Independent with that part of Judge PARKER's re which, after asserting that "the ripe and final decision of the people is always for the right," he declared that it was the proper task and highest duty of the press "discern and lead the unhurried and vell-considered judgment of the people,' and promised that so long as it performs task and fulfills this duty power grow mightily and so long will it hold its place in the front rank of the un faltering and vigorous march of National rogress." This, in the opinion of The Independent, is to make the press a political weather bureau. "Look ahead," he says; "see how the wind will blow in the end, for it is sure to blow right, and trim your sails accordingly, and thus lead public opinall due respect to The Independent, its paraphrase of Judge PARKER's advice is hardly fair one, since, even if his words did seem to justify some such interpretation, it was perfectly obvious that he spoke them with quite another meaning. His intention, doubtless, was to credit the press with ability, when it chose to exercise it, of seeing the right and wrong of things ore quickly than the people as a mass and as surely his advice was not for the press to reach certain conclus the people would reach them later, but because the conclusions were right, ultimate popular assent being merely incidental. As for the underlying assumption that the people always are right in the end. The Independent The assumption is true in so far that in the very nature of things wrong is impermanent, and every bad policy must after a while demonstrate its badness to all by the evil consequences it produces for all. often does refer to a period extremely remote, and for all present and practical purposes the abstract superiority of popular over individable. If "well-considered" means "longconsidered," the Judge would hardly contend that it results in accuracy in every instance, and between "well" and "long" it is difficult to draw a satisfactory line.

-Much interest in building and other circles will be excited by the news that the big building of the Prudential Insurance Company in Newark was somewhat seriously injured by a lightning stroke during the storm of Wednesday evening. So far as we recall, this is the very first time that lightning has been able to inflict upon an edifice of the modern "steel construction" type more damage than is involved in the shattering of a wooden flagstaff, and it has been the general conviction, supported by an experience now extending over a considerable number of years, that in such edifices there was to be found a very close approximation to absolute safety from atmospheric electricity. The bolt which struck the tower of the Prudential Building, however, for some reason or other did not find a direct and easy pathway to the ground. and it showed all its characteristic irrita tion at obstacles and delay. Nobody happened to be hurt, but a good many big tones were displaced, and not a few of them were sent crashing to the street be low. The inevitable investigation will doubtless disclose the reason for this unusual behavior. It is customary to call lightning 'erratic." Of course it is no such thing but is, instead, as strictly obedient to fixed laws of motion as is a pebble dropped from hand to the ground. In this instance the behavior was unusual or unprecedented simply because the conditions were unusual or unprecedented, and the lightning, instead of spreading harmlessly over a great and ontinuous steel framework extending to moist earth, was obliged to make a path for itself through bad conductors. Beyond any question at all, it took, as always, the line of least electrical resistance, and since that least resistance was great, it made its progress disastrously manifest, Innumer able buildings of steel construction have been struck by lightning without causing anything worse than a shock to the nerves of their occupants from the sound of the thunder, and yet no especial precautions were taken in making these structures to render them immune from electrical shocks. So it has been assumed that all such buildings were entirely safe from their very nature. That is apparently not the case, but fortunately it is certain that they can very easily be made safe. The probability is that the framework of the Newark tower not so connected with the framework of the building proper as to facilitate the passage of the electrical current from one to the other. That can be readily remedied.

-A Coroner's inquest held in London th other day curiously illustrated both the survival of ancient beliefs and the new way n which most people have come to regard them. It seems that while a tailor and his wife were engaged in a fierce war of words the man made against the woman a charge which she vehemently denied, and while he was repeating his accusation he suddenly fell unconscious and died a few hours late In giving her testimony at the inquest the widow admitted that she was strongly of the opinion that her husband's "stroke was a "punishment of God" for his unjust arge against her, her way of putting it JUDGE KEOGH FOR GOVERNOR. and the jurymen manifested a somewha re to know exactly what the accusation in question was, but the widow firmly refused to tell, even when she was subjected to the threat of losing her fee as a witness, and all the inquisitive officials uld learn from other sources was that the trouble somehow concerned a bedridden rother of the tailor, for whom the wife had performed occasional household services of a nature apparently the very reverse of reprehensible. The doctors finally testified that the death was simply one of apoplexy, brought on by the excitement of quarrel, and the jury brought in a verdict to that effect, but the widow went away clinging strongly to her own theory of a special interposition and a Divine vengeance, and a good many of the spectators seemed to hold the same opinion When one remembers how few years have passed since that opinion would have been held self-evident by almost everybody, the progress of-something or other-is made

-There will be, we suspect, some disquietude in the public mind over the estab-lishment on the elevated roads of a service of special cars for the business of one of the express companies. Of course, every-body will welcome an improvement in the facilities for the transfer of packages from one part of the city to another, and that nce of the innovation is eminently desirable, but it has long been of the elevated railway people that the discomforts and delays of their pa raffic were due entirely to the fact that the demand for passenger transportation was in excess of the possibilities of the line for giving the quick and comi officials would be so glad to provide. Several New Yorkers have had heir doubts in the past about the exact truth of this claim, and it is at least probable that several more of them will develop such doubts now that it has been found practicable to run express carscars, that is, for express matter-over these same overburdened tracks. There are, however, a few hours in the day, or rather in the night, when passengers are compara tively few-and trains the same. Presumit is at these hours that the new ex press business will be done. We can hope so, and must.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER. Sixty Per Cent. of Verbiage—Fallacy of Protection. Editor of The New York Times: Your editorial comments on Presiden posevelt's letter of acceptance noted above are highly commendable for their spirit of fairness toward its putative author. By the line of laborious defensive argument and questions propounded the hand of another, skilled in legal tactics, is plainly to be seen, as when in the act of onfusing a witness by cross-questioning not in the least pertinent to the case. In the next place that extraordinary docume assumes that, contrary to the history of the world, the indispensable man has been produced in the twentieth century indicating that the time of miracles has once nore dawned in the United States of America! The extraordinary document does not contain less than 60 per cent. of ver biage calculated to confuse its patien readers. Only the indispensable gentleman can be trusted with the Presidency of the United States, and if that prodigy is no eeded the Government must crumble! O, modesty, where is thy blush? If that dire prediction be true we may as well face the music now before the indispe man is called by nature to his eternal home. When the safety of a nation hinge on the retention of one person in powe that nation is to be pitied. The co of any business enterprise which requires to be so strenuously defended by its agers deserves to be investigated by the stockholders who, in the present case, are the American people. Let's see the books and records now so jealously guarded by our officials as concealment points to fear of disclosures. A searching examination will not harm any honest man, and after eight years of continuous power it is time that the stockholders should see the books and learn whether their business has been properly conducted. The American people are noted for being patient and long-suffering, but when once onvinced of wrong practices swiftly. Our oppressive unjust tariff bene fits the few at the expense of the many and serves to accumulate money in the Treasury only to be squandered in reckles wild schemes, less what sticks to the hands of the manipulators, all of which, plainly stated, is robbery of the people. " Protec tion to American industry" is a phrase, an illusion and a snare which has fooled many people because they do not take time to study the bugbear. " Protection of the same catching expression, which is palpably misleading and deceptive. "Protection" is another name for high tariff which means robbery of good-natured people without their knowledge. "Protection" stimulates overproduction by manu facturers largely in excess of home de mand, and the surplus is disposed of in foreign countries at any price that can be obtained, often not more than one-fifth of the price which the American consumer is forced to pay. The reason for thus ending surplus products out of this country is to maintain high prices in the ho orkets and in that way rob the goodnatured American people who have not ime or do not take the trouble to investigate the actual working of "protection to American labor."

Neither boss nor money power has hold on him. DEMOCRAT.

Port Chester, Sept. 15, 1904.

To the Editor of The New York Times: As the time for holding the Democratic Convention draws near the splendid peronality and intellectual strength of Supreme Court Justice Martin J. Keogh of Westchester County is apparently attracting the attention of his party associates hroughout the State. To those who have ong known Judge Keogh this is the hapelest of auguries for Democratic success this year. It may sound as an exaggeration to speak of a man whose name is not n the mouth of every citizen of the State, as the names of politicians are apt to be, as the strongest, ablest and nanding personality within the Democratic Party. But I think those who have known Judge Keogh longest and whose acquaint ance with public men generally throughou the State is also large, will agree that this language, when applied to Judge Keogh, not an exaggeration.

His talents are of the first order. Hi areer at the bar was so extraordinarily successful that it is difficult for lawyer recall any other which, for legitimate legal achievements, can be compared with His record as a Supreme Court Justice during the last nine years is an equally good one. His political availability cannot be assailed in any respect. His Democracy native and inborn with him. His absolute freedom from factional entangle ments, due to the fact that he has never been a seeker after a place nor a fre of political gatherings, distinguishes him from every other candidate whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Governorship. He is brilliant, magnetic, upright man, capable in the estimation of those who remember paign of unequaled vigor and strength and, if elected Governor, of placing the next administration at Albany upon the highest plane.

New York Sept. 14, 1904.

To the Editor of The New York Times: Democrats of all sorts have rejoiced late y to see that the name of Supreme Court Justice Martin J. Keogh of Westchester County is being talked of prominently as the Democratic candidate for Governor. Judge Keogh, in the opinion of the writer yould be an ideal candidate for the party this year. He is the type of Democrat for whom all Democrats and independents are anxious to vote. Unfettered and unhampered by political ties, and uncontrolled by any boss. Judge Keogh would not be the ool of any man or set of men. Possessing a brilliant mind and an er administrative ability, Judge Keogh would bring to the office of Governor a capacity and an ability that have been conspicuously lacking in that office for the past four years, and, in the opinion f the writer, he would enlist the enthusiastic support of all Democrats and of all citizens (of whatever party) who desire to prevailed at Albany for the past two adin the Face of Issues.

TWIXT DEVIL AND DEEP SEA. Mugwump's Idea of Democratic Policy

To the Editor of The New York Times: Notwithstanding a perfectly impartial contempt for both the great political parties, I have always been ready to award the palm for folly to the Democrats. For nearly fifty years, though I have several times voted with them, I have frequently expressed the opinion that they would never miss a chance to make fools of themselves. Even under Cleveland's wisdom his party was constantly acting out its old habit,

Perhaps the most remarkable of all its fatuities has been its conduct since the Parker telegram. If it had seized that opportunity and come out with a policy ap-pealing to the multitudes stirred by that brave and unselfish utterance, it would have stood an excellent chance to sweep the country.

The telegram, of course, raised no issue but it appeared to show a man to lead in an issue, and nothing but an issue was The only one on which virtually all Democrats and most independents are agreed is the tariff. The intelligence of the country, when not hobbled by traditions of the bloody shirt, financial greed, or by party fealty, is as much opposed to it as Mr. Roosevelt was before the party bonds closed around him.

The party that annexes the independent votes wins. The Republicans have lately got them twice, because they found even he tariff less obnoxious than free silver. This time there is nothing whatever to prevent the Democrats getting them if they will show a reason. But this they have so far refrained from doing. A call for war on the tariff would bring them like the call of a trumpet. But no such signal has been issued; the party is silent and seems afraid. The excuse that the Senate cannot be carried is no excuse for avoiding what can be carried; and it leaves many of us independents without anything to vote for.

Many of us think that expansion is in evitable and that the Constitution, while it protects and supplies much of the nourishnent for our National life, as the bark protects and supplies the tree, must grow as the bark grows, or the tree cannot grow. But while we differ on those things, we are virtually all agreed on the tariff. In the absence of any danger that appears to us greater, we will not vote for the tariff; and the virtual ignoring of it by the Democratic managers discourages all faith that in voting with them we will be voting against it. To vote the Democratic ticket for any other visible reason is a thing at which most independents would mile; our old contempt for their stupidity is not only aroused by this fresh exhibition of it, but doubled by their cowardice; and so, between the devil and the deep sea, many of us are likely not to vote at all. #### AMERICANS TO GET THE MONEY. Cuba Awards Contract to Pay Its War Veterans' Warrants.

The Cuban Government has awarded the Royal Bank of Canada, through its various Cuban branches, the contract for the disbursement to the Cuban war veterans of the sum of $31,000,000, due in con nection with the recent war of revolution which ended with the intervention of the United States and its war with Spain. This debt, upon the formation of the Republic, ecame one of the first obligations and was royided for by the issue of $35,000,000 first ortgage 5 per cent. bonds, which loated in New York and in Europe last Winter. A large proportion of the warrants held by the soldiers to represent their claims have changed hands since their issue, having been bought up speculatively at a dis ount, and it is estimated that $10,000,000 of the total is held by Americans or purhased with American money. For some weeks past there have been arge shipments of gold from New York and Paris to Cuba, the proceeds of the ond issue. These funds will be depe with the Royal Bank of Canada, in Havana to meet the Government checks, issued to pearer, in retirement of the soldiers' war rants. The bonds realized to the republic 90%, and are now quoted at 101% on the New York Stock Exchange.

Government Calls In Big Stamps on Imported Smokes.

TRUST MAKES BIG PROTEST

Little Stamp Inside Box Tickles Independents-Old Stamp Was Used as "Ad."

Special to The New York Times. WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 .- A fierce contest is being waged between the Tobacco Trust, known as the Havana Tobacco Company, and the independent tobacco manufacturers and dealers throughout the country. The subject of controversy is the stamp required on imported boxes of cigars.

For a number of years the manufacturers of cigars made in this country from tobacco imported from Cuba have objected to the wide customs stamp, printed in red, which is bound about the boxes of imported cigars, and is generally accepted by smokers as a certificate of merit, and as the guarantee by the United States Gov-ernment that the cigars were imported. The matter came to a head when the Tobacco Trust had acquired a majority of the cigar factories in Cuba. Since that time the entire independent tobacco trade of the United States has been working to have the customs stamp abolished.

This effort failed, as the Treasury Department wishes the boxes of imported cigars marked to prevent refilling or "box stuffing," by which unscrupulous dealers palm off domestic for imported cigars. The Treasury Department officials, however, were of the opinion that it was unjust to the independent American manufacturers and to the cigar and tobacco trade in general that the United States customs stamp should be utilized substantially as an advertisement.

Consequently Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Armstrong, in charge of the Customs Service, after months of careful consideration of the subject, and being convinced that the whole American trade, with the exception of the Tobacco Trust, favored a change in the stamp, recently issued an order that a new stamp should be prepared. This stamp will be inconspicuous in character, and will be placed on the bottom of the box, fully complying with the law, but of such design as not to constitute an advertisement of foreign-made cigars.

No sooner had the news of this move been communicated to the trade than letters and telegrams from independent manufacturers and dealers in all parts of the ment congratulating Mr. Armstrong on the

There was but one note of opposition, and that was from the Tobacco Trust, which, it is understood, has appealed to the President to have the order countermanded. The trust is bringing all its influences to bear to prevent a change in the stamp, and, it | be my last. I am more than interested in is said, a hearing in New York will be given to the representatives of the Havana Tobacco Company very shortly, probably

Should the conference with the trust officials result in the order being suspended or revoked a storm of protest will be raised. It is reported that resolutions from the National Cigar Leaf Tobacco Association, the New York Leaf Tobacco Board of Trade, the Havana Cigar Manufacturing Association of the United States, and other organizations having headquarters in New York have been sent to the President protesting against any revocation or suspension

This action was in obedience to the order of Justice Anderson of the Supreme Court, for the purpose of protecting creditors of Waggaman other than the Catholic Uni-

All the papers held by Mr. Waggaman re lating to "List No. 1" were examined, and each note was checked, with the correspending entries on the list. As this list is said to include over $1,300,000 worth of notes, the accounting necessarily required considerable time, and it was not until well in the afternoon that the task was completed.

By the terms of Justice Anderson's order. the Marshal will remain custodian of the notes and other securities of Mr. Waggaman until a further order from the He is directed also to collect and hold all amounts due from any of the properties owned by the plaintiff.

This decision was reached at a meeting i Bloomingdale Turn Hall, Eighth Avenue and Fifty-fourth Street, last night, in which all the unions not in the alliance, a well as the alliance unions, were represent ed. The meeting was called to enlist the sympathy of the outside unions, and among were the Housesmiths and Bridgemen's Union and the local unions of bricklayers, which so far have kept out of the fight. According to the leaders of the neeting, which was secret, 200 delegates representing 75,000 workers, attended.

The question, it was learned afterward simmered down to the point whether or not the unions outside the alliance were willing to work with non-union men. The lliance won out on this contention, and then the alliance speakers said that uness the other unions joined in the fight they would be working with non-union nen. This carried the meeting.

there in June, 1875, as defendant in civil suits aggregating more than $000,000. He was a prisoner in name only, being permitted to go where he chose, a deputy accompanying him on his rambles through the city. On one of his outings he escaped, but was subsequently recaptured. He died in the jail on April 12, 1876.

Other notable prisoners were James D. Fish and Ferdinand Ward, who were responsible for the financial ruin of Gen. Grant; Jacob Sharp of "boodle Aldermen" notoriety, and Whitaker Wright, the English exponent of the "get-rich-quick" game. After the meeting was over it was ancounced that a committee of one from each union represented had been appointed to draw up an ultimatum to the Employers Association, giving the employers until Wednesday to declare the lock-out off, failing in which strikes would be ordered by every building trades union in the city.

No progress was made yesterday toward resumption of work on the new school buildings. It was expected that something would be done by the Employers' Association but it continues its refusal to have any dealings with the Building Trades Alliance, even to the extent of a truce on school work. Lewis Harding, Chairman of th Press Committee of the employers, reiter ated that under no circumstances would the association enter into any kind of a agreement with the alliance. He was tole that the pledge of the alliance unions that they would allow their members to go back to work if the Employers' Association would permit, meant that the locked-out nen would return and the new ones be discharged.

"Not a new man now at work will be dis charged," he said. "They are there to stay and we will use all diligence in manning

By that time I was convinced that he was mad and then I hit him on the head with my night stick." The Sergeant complimented Ryan on his novel method of ascertaining the condition of the dog, and Ryan's first case was entered on the blotter.

FIND BODY ON CENTRAL TRACK. Police Believe Victim to Have Been

The decapitated body of an unidentified an about forty-five years old was found last night on the south-bound track of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad at One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street and the Hudson River by Policeman Nieman of the West One Hundred and Fifty-second Street Station. The police do not report the case as one of suicide but say they believe it to be such. In the man's pocket was found a piece of rope about six feet long, with a noose in th end, and this fact strengthens this belief. Although poorly clad, the man was of refined appearance, and was not a laboring man. His hands were delicate and whit and seemed unused to work with imple ments of toil. The police say they believe the man to have been an artist or profes sional man of some kind. The body removed later to the Harlem Morgue. It will be sent to-day to the Bellevue Morgue

Bad luck seems to have taken up its permanent residence in the Sacks household. Three of the six children are no in various hospitals. A week ago Harry the oldest boy, seven years old, was taken to the Harlem Hospital with both legs fractured. He was playing in the street when a truck ran over him. A few days later Pearl, twin sister of Benjamin, both ne year old, was taken to Mount Sina Hospital with pneumonia. It was while Mrs. Sacks was out visiting her other children that Flora fell from the window.

In asking to be recorded in the negative Mr. Warner said that the structure was to cost upward of $10,000,000, and that the Art ion in assuming to decide between the eve-bar and the wire cables was put great responsibility, particularly the question was one on which experts were divided. When the question was put to a vote it was found that the other seven resent had voted in the affirmative. Bridge Commisisoner Best was greatly pleased at his victory.

"Now that I have the necessary approval I shall go ahead at once and advertise for bids," he said.

HEARING IN MRS. LEARY'S SUIT. Lady Paget's Testimony About Mortgage Transaction Read.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 15 .- Vice Chanin the action brought by Mrs. Mary C. eary, administratrix of the estate of her husband, James D. Leary, who was proprietor of the Hoffman House, to foreclo a mortgage for $7,500 given to her husband by Joseph Comings in 1889. The mortgage was found among her husband's papers after his death. It is claimed by the de fense that the mortgage is void, it having been taken up when a mortgage to take its place had been given to Mrs. Paran Stevens, who loaned the money to take up the Leary mortgage.

During the hearing testimony given by Lady Mary Paget, wife of Sir Arthur Paget, a daughter of the late Mrs. Paran Stevens was read. According to this testimony Lady Paget, shortly after the death of h mother four years ago, was approached by Leary, who told her that he had an inti-Leary, who told her that he had an intimate knowledge of her mother's business affairs and offered his services as adviser. When she later found in her mother's safety deposit box in the Knickerbocker Trust Company two mortgages—one for $7,500, made to Joseph Comings on property in Passaic and the other for $40,000 on city property to J. C. Clark, and a bundle of bonds of the Goode Cordage Company—she was urged by Leary to substitute her name for that of her mother's in these mortgages and dispose of them without the knowledge of the Union Trust Company which under Mrs.

pany, which under Mrs. Stevens's will had been made trustee.
Further reading showed that the witness, while she had declined to change the signature, had permitted Leary to take the documents away with him. When Leary died about a year later the Comings mortgage was found among his securities with Mrs. Stevens's name erased from it. It is claimed that this is the mortgage that Mrs. Leary is now trying to foreclose.

LARCHMONT CLUB POW-WOW. Farce by Lambs' Shepherd to be Given

on Sunday. Preparations are being made at Larch ont and Travers Island for the annual pow-wow of the "Huckleberry Indians and the "Flub Dubs," which is to be held at Huckleberry Island next Sunday afternoon. The clubmen are keeping mum about their performance, which always winds up the yachting season on the Sound, and in order to keep inquiring pale faces off they will have a force of private detectives stationed at the island.

It is learned, however, that the clubmer are to produce a burlesque entitled "Captain Kidd, the Kidder," written by Clay tain kidd, the kidder, written by Clay M. Greene, shepherd of the Lambs Club. The piece ends with a dance performed by a bevy of soubrettes and mermaids. About two hundred clubmen will take part in the show, impersonating Indians and pirates. At the close of the performance everybody will join in the annual handshake and clambake.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 15.—The Texas AUSTIN, Texas, separation to day took the pro-liminary step toward instituting proceedings in court to forfeit the charter of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande Railway Company and to obtain heavy pens lleged violations of the laws of this State. This railroad is a 'Frisco property. It is alleged by the Railroad Commission that the defendant company issued in April, 1903, its mortgage bonds to the amount of $994,000 and its capital stock to the amount of $944,600 without authority of the comon and in violation of the stock and bond law, and also that the general offi-ces of the company are kept in St. Louis, Mo., instead of in Texas as required by law. The case is set for hearing on Oct. 18.

AMERICAN'S BATTING HARD

Greater New Yorks Lost First Contest to Champions, but the Second Was a Tie.

The New York National League team finished its season's series of games with the Bostons yesterday, and the local men scored their twentieth victory over the New England team. Of the twenty-two games played between the teams the Bostons only won two. Brooklyn played another double-header with Philadelphia at Washington Park, the honors being equally divided.

In the American League the Greater New Yorks and Bostons stoutly contested every inch of ground in two games, with the result that the Bostons took the first one by a run, thus placing them in the lead again, while the second game was stopped by darkness at the end of the ninth inning, after each team had scored a run. The Philadelphia team won two games from Washington, while Detroit shut out Cleveland in six innings. Summary follows:

New York, with Wiltse Pitcher, Defeats Boston by Score of 3 to 2.

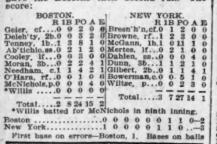

McNichols's wildness and timely batting of the New Yorks gave McGraw's men the last game of the season with the Bostons yesterday at the Polo Grounds. Although the teams kept close to each other throughout, the score being 3 to 2, there was nothing unusual displayed by the fielders, with the exception of a magnificent catch of a foul fly by Browne off O'Haya's bat in the fourth inning. The ball dropped close to the open seats and half way up to the covered grand stand. Yet by fast running Browne got up to the ball and by putting out one hand caught it.

Wiltse pitched his twelfth consecutive game and won it cleverly. He received splendid support, the only error of the team being credited to Gilbert. This occurred in the ninth inning, when Geler hit up a ball midway between first and second bases, but the usually reliable second baseman seemed to be all at sen in trying to reach the ball, and he finally put up his left hand and dropped it. "Hank" O'Day, who was hit on the head by a bat about six weeks ago and had an operation performed at a hospital in this city, made his reappearance as an umpire.

his reappearance as an umpire.

Bresnahan started off for the New Yorks by being hit with a pitched ball, but in stealing second was decided out by O'Day. Browne struck out, but McGann was sent to first on four bad balls. Mertes's single to left field enabled McGann to reach third, and then Mertes drew a throw to first from McNichols, Tenney sent the ball to Delehanty, and in the meantime McGann crossed the plate unobstructed. Mertes, however, was finally run down at second. In the sixth inning Dahlen reached first on called balls, and went to third on Dunn's two-bagger to left field. Gilbert was hit by pitcher, which filled the bases. On Bowerman's hit to Moran, Dahlen was easily thrown out at the plate. Dunn, who got to third on the play, scored on Wiltse's out at centre field. Another run was made in the seventh inning by Browne, who made to second, and sent home on Mertes's hit to left.

Needham, the first man up for Boston in the seventh inning, hit the ball to almost the ropes in centre field and made the circuit of the bases. In the eighth inning singles by Tenney, Abbatichio, and Moran gave the Bostons their second run. The secore:

BROOKLYN WON AND LOST.

The Brooklyn and Philadelphia teams played another double-header at Washington Park yesterday, the result being an equal division of the honors. The first game, with Mitchell and Suthoff as the opposing pitchers, the Philadelphians won by a score of 5 to 2. Hanlon's men secured almost two hits to the visitors' one, but Suthoff kept them well scattered, and the run-getting was handicapped by the steady and accurate fielding of the Philadelphia team, in which Gleason was the most prominent exhibitor. The second game lasted only seven innings, but in that time the Brooklyns scored 14 runs to 7 and made thirteen hits to nine. The work of the Philadelphians in the field was directly opposite to that shown in the first game, Lush alone having four errors to his credit.

Hanlon tried his new pitcher, Durham, from the Southern Atlantic League, in the second game, and he did fairly well until the fourth inning, when the Philadelphians improved their batting averages to the extent of making four runs, after which the new-comer was succeeded by Scanlon. The scores:

Boston Turns Tables on Greater New Yorks and Regains Lead.

Special to The New York Times. BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 15.-Boston turned the tables to-day, and New York once more holds second place, Boston taking the first game by 3 to 2 and tieing the second, 1 to 1, larkness again stopping the contest withou a decision. Boston outbatted New York, and on the whole played the best ball. New York started out in the first game with two runs, but Boston got on to Orth as the game progressed, and in the seventh Orth strained a tendon in his right arm and gave way to Griffith, who held the champions down. In the ninth inning New York made a desperate bid for the victory, but with three men on bases and two out Conroy ended the game by striking out. Both games were bitterly contested, and the setback was taken to heart by the New York players. Griffith worked hard for victory. He was on the lines most of the time, and his clever pitching, after relieving Orth, was commended by all. Boston was not to be denied, however, and Parent, who caused the local downfall yesterday was the chief cause of New York's defeat Parent was responsible for all of Boston's uns, and he fielded in his old-time manner The grounds were soaking wet, but one of the biggest crowds of the season was or hand. Dougherty his the ball hard, but fielded poorly, being unable, it seemed, to either hold a ground ball or pick it up after stopping it.

either hold a ground ball or pick it up after stopping it.

Tannehill and Orth started the first game. Dougherty singled, then stole second, and scored on Keeler's single and Elberfeld's out. In the third inning Orth forced McGuire at second and scored on Dougherty's triple. Boston got two runs in the fifth inning when Criger singled and Tannehill walked. Selbach sacrified both along, and Parent's single to left sent them home. Tannehill won his own game in the seventh when he tripled to right and scored on Parent's hit to Conroy, barely beating the ball.

In the second game Selbach's double gave him third on Dougherty's fumble, and Stahl's grounder to Powell sent him home. Ganzel singled in New York's sixth inning and scored on Conroy's three-bagger. Both teams received plenty of chances to score, but hits never came. Another double-header will be played to-morrow.

SPRING RAN AWAY
WITH THE HANDICAP

Goughacres Stable's Colt Was First All the Way at Brighton.

KING PEPPER WON A STAKE

Long-Chance Horse Was Winner from a Good Field in the Mercury Stakes.

Results that were far removed from reason or public form dominated the racing at the Brighton Beach race track yesterday, with a general effect on the betting public that was rather depressing. The weather was clear and pleasant, in spite of the gloomy morning, and the track was dry and fairly good, though heavy, under the dusty covering. Harrows were busy in turning over the dry surface earth.

The feature event of the card was the

The feature event of the card was the race for the Mercury Handicap Cup, for on the promise that this event-a six-furlong sprint-gave, the real feature of the for three-year-olds and upward. For the long-distance handicap four horses ran, with Africander, winner of the cup trial, the opening favorite. He carried 126 pounds, while the three-year-old Spring was the sided contest from start to finish, for Spring, with only 107 pounds, bounded away to the front at the lifting of the barrier, and from end to end galloped in front. Africander went after him in the last three furlongs, but never was able to get dangerously near the winner. Spring galloped in first by a big margin.

For the stake feature of the programme the Mercury Handicap, at six furlongs, H. B. Durvea started two horses of the ten that ran. His representatives were Mineola and Aceful, which were well backed, though the two-year-old Waterside was the actual favorite at every stage of the betting. For the fact that she had the top weight in the race, Lady Amelia, with 127 pounds, broke through the crowd, took command in the first furlong, and led until the horses were almost at the winning post. King Pepper, first away at the start, and always well up, chased them, and won, ridden out, by head from Mineola, who, after coming from behind in a fine effort at the finish, got up in time to beat Lady Amelia a nose for second place, while Leonidas finished only a neck away.

Lochinvar won the opening event in a head finish with Ike S., and Ishlana took the third race after a smart struggle through the stretch. In the last race of the day Jim Beattle, backed from 60 to 1 down to one-tenth of that price, broke out of the crowd in the first furlong, and, racing in front for the remainder of the distance, won easily. Squadron A Team in Polo.

The Squadron A polo team defeated the Squadron Freebooters yesterday in an interesting game at Van Cortlandt Park by 8 goals to 5. Leavitt J. Hunt made 4 goals for the winning team, while J. H. Hunt and R. G. D. Douglas scored 2 each. The entire team showed marked improvement over the preceding match. For the Freebooters Alfred Borden made 3 goals and R. C. Lawrence 2, the latter, after a long absence from polo, doing highly creditable work at back. The teams were:

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Though a curtailment of activity was shown, prices as a whole held well, and closing transactions were made within a fraction of the day's high. Inquiry for bonds improved, and a fairly large number of issues were bought. In this depart-ment American Tobacco 6s were again the feature, with $125,000 selling, at a loss of % from the top-for the day, owing to large offerings. Cuban 6s of 1896 sold at an advance of ½ over the new 5s, which sold on the board at 101½. Electric Vehicle com-mon was the most active stock traded in, and rose 1%. About 3,000 shares were bought, and after a sharp break of % from the day's high, to 16, the purchase of 1,000 shares brought the quotation to the top figure again at the close. Greene Con-solidated was active and seemed in good demand, with sales as high as 15½. Notices have been sent out to stockholders of the annual meeting, which is to be held Oct. 12.

... The principal transactions in 100-share lots reported in the outside market yesterday, with high, low, and last prices, were as follows:

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks Uncertain; Call Money Easy, 1@2 Per Cent.

The List Alters Irregularly, Speculative Considerations Controlling Rather Than Crop Conditions.

The market opened yesterday, as it ed on Wednesday, with a strong tone stocks and weak tone in produce, but it speedily became less logical. Corn coned weak through the day, and closed at a decline upon good weather, but without especially stimulating the corn carriers. Wheat was strong and closed higher, but upon news not threatening any deficiency in American yield. Frost in Winnipeg and Manitoba and a poor harvest in much-plagued Russia promise to Americans more dollars and no fewer bushels. A market which is responsive to crop conditions ought to have risen upon yesterday's facts and prophecles, such, for instance, as the Cincinnati Price Current's statement that twothirds of the corn crop is beyond injury and that moderate frost would benefit

But yesterday's market was not responsive to the day's news in this respect. Encouraging as it was, it was not of a character to create a sudden demand for 175,000 shares of Pennsylvania nor to add two points value to New York Central. Neither was another postponement of the meeting of the billet pool, and expression of indifference whether or not 't met at all, or pretended to regulate prices demonstrating their indifference to all regulation, adapted to cause large buying of Steel at advancing prices. And if the facts justified activity and strength in these leading properties there could be no reason why other properties in similar classes should be soft. The facts were reconciled by most observers by the theory that some prices were made strong to distract attention from weakness elsewhere, under the process of profit taking. If the facts are as indicated, profit taking will do no more harm, but will rather prepare market conditions for further improvement, if what is now doubtful should be settled according to the present outlook.

Several facts of the day ought to be read together to be appreciated in their true significance. Up to yesterday more than twenty times as much cotton had been ginned this year as last. The inference is not regarding the total yield, for the difference is due to the earlier maturity of the crop this year, but regarding the supply of sterling, which fell twenty points upon the ample supply of cotton bills. Just as this demand upon our credit institutions demonstrates itself, and the money market rises quotably, the Bank of England makes a re port as unusually strong as our own, concurrently with exceptionally small demands upon resources larger than for years. We are in no need of gold, and are unlikely to insist upon having it in payment for what our foreign customers are buying of us, as usual at this season, but with the two banking situations so strong, and in such close relations, there is less need than before of borrowing trouble about moving the cotton crop this year. It will not be necessary, as it sometimes has been, for us to lend our customers money to buy with, and if we unexpectedly need some accommodation ourselves, there is plenty to be had, and bankers as eager to lend and as cheered by some rise in the price of money as

TOPICS IN WALL STREET. Early Strength Followed by Weaknes

-Stocks Act Queerly and Late Bulls Get Scared. Although the wire service was badly in-terrupted because of the storm of the night terrupted because of the storm of the night before, preventing free communication with out-of-town points, yet the activity was great enough even with that handicap to pile up transactions of 1,127,779 shares. But while the market flus kept up the precedent of the previous days it did not look so natural. Stocks acted as if they were intoxicated and their movement was decidedly erratic. The morning and afternoon developed strength in certain issues which gradually influenced the whole list, but just when everything was boiling, signs of a decline developed and the close was weak. It was rumored that Jones or Snow would come out to-day with a crop report which would show a yield of only 2,000,000,000,000 bushels of corp. The report was to have been out yesterday afternoon, but did not materialize. It was significant that Atchison, Union Pacific, Rock Island, and the other corn belt lines were leaders of the late decline.

STEEL BOUGHT TO COVER SELLING. One of the most active issues was United States Steel, which advanced to 184 for the ommon, of which 92,470 shares changed common, of which 92,470 shares changed hands, and to 68½ for the preferred, on sales of 147,612 shares. The close was below the top, but at a net advance for the day. There was a rumor to the effect that the Trust would acquire the Lack-awanna Steel Company and a few other rivals, but this was denied, and the best opinion was that the steel shares were being advanced to cover a profit-taking movement in the rest of the list.

THE TRUNK LINE ISSUES.

A similar reason was assigned for th strength in the trunk line issues. Of these Pennsylvania sold up to 132% and New York Central touched 129%, but the movement was so evidently due to manipulation that it inspired littile confidence, especially when it was found that the other stocks had been sold heavily at the same time.

THE UPS AND DOWNS.

The movements in Atlantic Coast Line and Colorado Fuel and Iron were fair and Colorado Fuel and Iron were fair samples of the market. The former was bid up sharply, and at once time went up to 131½, closing at 128½, an advance of four points. Colorado Fuel, on the contrary, declined to 33½, closing at 34½, a loss of 4½ points. There was nothing to explain the movement in Atlantic Coast Line. As regards Colorado it was said that the weakness was due to the closing out of a line of stock held by the estate of an old business associate of J. C. Osgood, former President of the company. The coming issue of new stock also exerted an influence.

QUICK TURNS EASY TO GET. This is a fine market for quick turns Any one that has a hankering after these delightful experiences can get his money's delightful experiences can get his money's worth right now. One brilliant young trader who thought on Tuesday the market was going to smash sold several hundred shares of St. Paul for a decline. He got rid of the stock at the very lowest eighth, and had to cover with a loss. The same young gentleman yesterday bought Erie, following a well distributed tip, and he got his stock at 32½, the very highest point of the day. He did not sell though, but bought a few hundred more at 31½, just to average up. It is to be hoped that he will not have to average down.

MONEY SLIGHTLY HIGHER. Money on call reached the highest point in several months yesterday, when loans at 2 per cent. were recorded. Demands are coming in for crop moving purposes, $300,000 having been sent to New Orleans yesterday for that purpose, GENERAL BUSINESS ITEMS. Coal shipments over Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg and Erie for week ending Sept. 10 were 657,848 tons, making the total for the year to date 27,186,624 tons against 29,348,368 tons last year.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Eagle Fire Company of New York has been called for Sept. 30 to vote on a proposition to increase its capital from $300,000 to $400,000.

Nominal rates for sterling exchange were reduced half a cent yesterday to $4.85 for sixty days and $4.87% for demand. Twenty-five shares of Bank of Commerce sold on the Stock Exchange yesterday at Pittsburg dispatches state that the Soho blast furnace of the Jones & Laughlins Steel Company has been ordered in blast at ges in stocks of one-half of 1 per of the South Side plant has been placed on full time after an idleness of six months. This makes the Bessemer department of the works in full operation. According to Magnolia, Miss., dispatches the stockholders of the Magnolia cotton Mills have authorized the Directors to increase capital stock from $100,000 to $200,-

PHILADELPHIA PRICES. Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.-United States Steel common to-day displaced Reading common as the active leader of this market, sales of the former aggregating 16,475 shares, against 13,310 shares for the latter. These, with Pennsylvania's sales of 11,503 shares, furnished nearly three-fourths of the day's business. If to this total be added the sales of other arbitrage stocks, it will be found that these issues contributed no less than 50,777 shares out of the day's total of 61,452 shares. Prices of the local stocks held fairly steady, notwithstanding New York's decline. United Gas ₄mprove ment was weaker, but in the remainder of the list the recessions were limited to small fractions, while Pennsylvania Salt small fractions, while Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing receipts, $50 paid, were up 6 points, and Philadelphia and Erie 1. Bonds were more active than for several months, large blocks of Reading-Jersey Central 4s, United Railways 4s, Philadelphia Company consolidated 5s, and Philadelphia Electric 4s changing hands. Prices, however, did not show any appreciable change. Total sales, 61,452 shares; $248,800 bonds.

BULLS RECEIVE SET-BACK. Government Report of Cotton Ginning

Ahead of Last Year. The dusturbance of the wire service on account of the storm interfered somewhat account of the storm interfered somewhat yesterday with the business of the Cotton Exchange. The confidence of the bulls recerved, however, a slight set-back by Government's first ginning report, which showed that up to September nearly 400,000 ales had been ginned, as against some 70,000 last year. This year's amount exceeds even the figures of two years ago. A queet feature is that of the amount ginned only about one-fourth reached the market. General Appraisers Sustain Appeal for Low Duty on Unripe Wheat.

Declare That It Does Not Come Within the Commercial Designation of Wheat-Other Customs Decisions.

A decision of much importance to the wheat-growing and cattle-raising interests of the West and Northwest was handed lown by the Board of United States General Appraisers yesterday. It was written by General Appraiser Eugene G. Hay and sustained a protest by W. P. Devereux of Minneapolis against the classification for duty as "wheat" at 25 cents a bushel of an article described in the invoice as "wheat screenings" and returned by the Deputy Collector at Minneapolis as "feed wheat." In reality it is wheat from Canada, which, because of early frosts, had not matured. Mr. Hay declares in his opinion that the ordinary commercial meaning must be ap-plied in interpreting the tariff law. Broadly the term "wheat" may mean anything from the seed to the grain in the field, but in commerce as ordinarily applied it refers only to the grain in shape to be ground into flour, or for use as seed. The grain under consideration is not fit to be made into flour or for human food, and it is incapable of germination. It would not be accepted or sold as wheat on any of the exchanges, and its only use is as feed for cattle and fowl, for which it is largely used. Mr. Hay, therefore, sustains the claim that it is dutiable at 10 per cent. as an unenumerated unmanufactured ar-the claim that it is dutiable at 10 per centas an unenumerated unmanufactured article.

Protests overruled yesterday were by W. W. Cowell and Edwin Cawston, Bangor, Me., P. McGettrick, Burlington, Vt.; Taylor, Young & Co., Fortland, Ore; the William Tonk & Brother Company, Chicago, (9); the Stone & Downer Company, Boston; the Fred Schick Company, Minneapolis; the A. Vignier Company, and Pascal, Dubedat & Co., San Francisco, and the R. B. Maclea Company, the estate of C. B. Rouss, S. Zeimer & Feldstein, and George Borgfeld & Co., New York. Protests sustained were by Granucci Brothers, San Francisco; E. P. Carpenter Chicago; the Weideman Company, Cleveland, and the Acker, Merrall & Condit Company and Luyties Brothers, New York. Protests partly sustained were by Luyties Brothers, the Acker, Merrall & Condit Company, the Jessup & Moore Paper Company, James F. White & Co., and Ballin & Taylor, New York.

GOODS FOR FAIR ADVANCED.

Heavy Increases on Invoice Values of St. Louis Importations.

Several very heavy advances on invoice values were announced yesterday by the Board of United States General Apprairers, most of them on goods entered at St. Louis for sale in connection with the Fair. General Appraiser Fischer announces en advance of 50 per cent., which is equivalent to a seizure, on a large invoice of chinaware from Wing Chong Shut of Hongkong, entered at St. Louis. Mr. Fischer also advances 100 per cent. a package of metal chains, valued at 50 francs, shipped by Flora Spatz of Pieterlen and entered at St. Louis.

A large invoice of porcelain from Kaitsu

Gomei Knaisha of Yokohama, and entered at St. Louis, was advanced 50 per cent.

Two entries at Chicago, advanced by Mr. Fischer, were eighty-three okes of safted pepperpods shipped by Elivponio & Merminger of Piraeus, from 50 to 75 drachme an oke, and fifty dozen hatpins from R. D. Warburg & Co. of Parls, from 10 to 15 francs a dozen.

Gen. T. S. Sharretts advances a large invoice of mosale photograph frames from Giuseppi Rizzi of Venice, entered at Newark, N. J., from 50 to 300 per cent. Gomei Knaisha of Yokohama, and entered

Cotton Ginning Statistics. WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 .- The cotton report of the Census Bureau, issued to-day, shows a total of 390,414 commercial bales pressed at the ginneries, ginned from the growth of 1904 prior to Sept. 1. against a total of 17,587 commercial bales in the corresponding period last year. The report shows 7,567 ginneries operated this season prior to Sept. 1, while the number operated to the corresponding date in 1903 was 2,176. The report points out that in comparing the statistics of the two years due allowance must be made for the differcommercial bales, which would number but 374,821 if the round bales were counted as half bales, comprise 358,796 square bales, 31,187 round bales, and 431 Sea Island crop

NEW SORT OF RAILROAD SPIKE. Appraiser Whitehead Sustains Protest in Favor of French Importation.

A protest was filed yesterday with the Board of United States General Appraisers against the classification as "screws more than two inches long "at 4 cents a pound of heavy iron screws, which are designed to take the place of ordinary spikes for railroad ties, and which it is claimed by the importers will permit the use of soft woods, such as pine and spruce, for ties, instead of oak, which is becoming scarce. The ordinary spike will not hold in a soft-wood tie. The ordinary spike will not hold in a soft-wood tie.

The article, which is being imported from France for experimental purposes by Lembeck & Co., is an entirely new one, and has given the customs officials a good deal of trouble. It is in the form of a screw, about eight inches long and an inch thick, and instead of the ordinary slotted screw head it has a square head, designed for the application of a wrench. It weighs nearly three pounds.

Appraiser Whitehead finally decided to classify it as a screw, but the importers claim that it is dutiable as a spike at 1 cent a pound.

CHEERS FOR NEW SOUTH AT BANKERS' CONGLAVE

E. E. Prussing of Chicago Would Amend National Banking Act.

TO MEET TRUST COMPANIES

Mr. Wade Announces That the St. Louis Fair Will Be Able to Pay Not Only Debts, but Dividends.

It was left to the Southern members to arouse the enthusiasm of the American Bankers' Association, for until a North Carolina orator took the platform yester day morning each speaker had been received with polite attention rather than outbursts of applause. When the South-erners, one after the other, told of the South's prosperity and wonderful growth since the war the cheering was deafening After the set speeches President Bigelow announced the "call of Sections," in order to have representatives of every part of the country describe local conditions. Nobody responded to the call on the North at first, and the Chairman passed on to the South temporarily, introducing George S. Brown, President of the City National Bank of Raleigh, N. C.

"It is useless," said Mr. Brown, "for me to tell you the old story of desolation that followed the civil war, of the period that preceded the time when we came to realize this flag anew, to know it was ours, its stars our stars. The progress of the South in its mines, manufactures, agriculture, in its mines, manufactures, agriculture, education, banks, and general business gives us the right to stand before you today, not as the prodigal son returned, but in making his parent land the leader of

The speaker gave instances of the new South's prosperity. He said that a try from Washington to New Orleans on any train would show flourishing crops in every field that was a barren, untilled waste a few years ago. Cotton alone had brought hundreds of millions into the South within a year. Into his own State one small industry—the shipping of straw-berries—had brought more than $1,000,000, and the berries sent out through the Port of Wilmington in the year would fill a train of freight cars eight miles long.

CHEERS FOR THE NEW SOUTH. The end of Mr. Brown's speech was marked by long cheering, and scores of the delegates rushed up to the platform and shook hands with him.

R. F. Maddox, First Vice President of the Maddox-Rucker Banking Company of Atlanta, came next. Georgia, he said, with a population containing 39 per cent. of native-born Americans, was "as loyal to the flag as New York." In 100 out of 137 ounties, he said, no liquor was allowed to be sold, and in the cities the licenses were

"There is not one gambling house in Atlanta," he said, and the audience applauded. J. Wirt Randall, President of the Farmers' National Bank of Annapolis, Md., said that the National banks must either get new currency legislation or contract in-curable disease. He deplored the "gross impropriety" of trust companies engaging n a promoting business. "That was what caused the wrecking of two Baltimore trust concerns," he added. "It taught Maryland a lesson that the trust companies and State banks should be required to keep the same reserves as the National banks. This association ought to pass a resolution to that effect." [Ap-Festus J. Wade, President of the Mercantile Trust Company of St. Louis, told of the Exposition, saying that he wanted to surprise the audience by making this

"It was a slander at any time to say that the fair was in danger of a receiver-ship. The Ninety-three Directors, backed by the banks and trust companies of St. Louis, have guaranteed to pay back all the Government loan, and already more than $3,000,000 of it has been paid. The Exposition not only will pay all its debts, but it will pay dividends. That I know

Joseph C. Hendrix, ex-President of the National Bank of Commerce of this city and formerly President of the association. took the platform for the North. He said the outlook of the North in respect to the south and West had changed in ten years. There had been a new influence from the rosperity of those sections, and it was reflected here. A. V. Lane, Vice President of the National Exchange Bank of Dallas, Texas, an J. K. Wilson, President of the San Francisco National Bank, spoke for their

Following an opening prayer by Mgr. M. J. Lavelle of St. Patrick's Cathedral, A. J. Frame, President of the Waukesha National Bank of Waukesha, Wis., read a set paper on "Panic Panaceas," in the course of which he said:
"Our battle for the world's standard of value has been practically won. Now the paramount economic question before the American people is, How can we minimize conditions which produce panics, and also ameliorate their after paralyzing effects? Panics undoubtedly cannot be prevented. Notwithstanding this, I am a firm believer in bettering panic conditions, both as to their frequency and severity. But how! My answer is:

"Why not empower the Government to issue but one kind of note, to wit, a legaltender note payable on demand in gold coln, and substitute it for all other Government issues of legal-tender notes, as well as gold and silver certificates, thus simplifying and absolutely settling the quality question of all Government issues?

SILENCE AT BRYAN'S NAME Speaking of "The Western Banker," W. C. Robinson of Kansas said that the class was the product practically of the last decade, before which it had not been considered of much importance.

"The West," he said, "was considered for many years the birthplace of the wildest vagaries, prominent among which was Populism. Free silver-sixteen to one-if there its strongest and most brilliant ad-it had not its origin in the West, found there its strongest and most brilliant advocate, William Jennings Bryan, a born master of men."

The speaker paused. There was not a sound of applause or disapproval from the audience, which packed the Waldorf-Astoria's ballroom from end to end.

Mr. Robinson praised the work of James H. Eckels as Controller of the Currency, a man to whom the Western banking interests were indebted for much.

"He was a Moses," continued the speaker, "saved for that purpose. He was one of the great Grover Cleveland's wise and prudent selections."

Some applause greeted Mr. Cleveland's name, It did not last, however. As before, the bankers evidently did not intend to instill any political flavor into their meeting.

"The Western banker," said Mr. Robinson, "has always been right on economic questions. He did his full part in the great battles of 1896 gmd 1900, when our money standard was at stake. He has always been a tirm believer in the full value of the dollar, and that the dollar of any stamp should be worth one hundred cents. When the great free-silver champlon was looking for a prominent banker for his serv-

Eugene E. Prussing's paper on "Banks and Trust Companies" was read by his partner, Frank H. McCulloch of Chicago, and was in part as follows:

"Broadly speaking, State banks and trust companies are not regulated by law in their investments and loans, and there is practically no requirement as to their cash reserve, while the National banks are closely guarded by law in both respects, so that to-day, instead of being far and away the leaders in financial affairs, they are struggling for place, and are obliged to ally themselves with institutions of the trust company class to maintain a fair position with the leaders in the financial world.

trust company class to maintain a fair position with the leaders in the financial world.

"It is with great hesitancy that I suggest at least a partial remedy in the expansion of the National Banking act, so as to cover modern conditions.

"If it were so amended as to permit not only the acceptance of all kinds of deposits and banking business, including the administration of trusts, with corresponding power to make not only commercial, but also time and real estate loans, and long investments of savings deposits, all under proper regulations and in due proportions to the deposits received; with such further regulations as to cash reserves and reserve agencies as the different classes of deposits suggest and properly require, much would be accomplished in the right direction, by placing the National banks on an equal footing with the State banks and trust companies as to the power to do business, and giving the National banks the great sevantage of proper legal restrictions and regulation. The amendments regulating investments and reserves would be comparatively simple matters. for we have many precedents in experience and in existing laws of various kinds."

BANKERS VISIT SUBWAY.

Four Five-Car Trains Carry National Park Bank Party.

Four fully equipped trains of five cars each, placed at the service of the National Park Bank by August Belmont, one of its Directors, yesterday afternoon carried about 2,300 correspondents and friends of this financial institution through the subway from Thirty-third to Ninety-sixth Street, back to the City Hall, and again to the policy of starting. Many of the guests the point of starting. Many of the guests were accompanied by their wives and

The four sections of the excursion, the largest yet to test the workings of the subway system, were under the direct super-vision of Superintendent A. L. Merritt, whose staff included Trainmaster O. Hayes and Motor Instructor G. M. Morrison. The guests of the Park Bank were received at the up-town station at Thirty-third Street by a committee of its officers. The first section, with 800 passengers, started shortly before 2 P. M., and the last at 2:15 P. M.

The average time from Thirty-third to Ninety-sixth Street was eight and one-half minutes, and that of the trip south to City Hall seventeen minutes. Owing to the num-ber of workmen active at various points a pilot engine preceded the first section on the trip north. On the trains were General Manager E. P. Bryan and Superintendent Frank Hedley. The excursionists marveled from start to finish, the women being especially demonstrative in delight at the oothness of transit, the spick-and-span appearance of the route and the stations, the illumination, and the almosphere of Luna Park Variety Not Too Small fo Rich Men on Camel Back.

Members of the American Bankers' Asso clation, together with their families and friends, numbering all told 7,000 persons had things all their own way last night at Coney Island, where the show managers had made special arrangements to enter tain them.

At Luna Park they were startled on er tering "Durbar of Delhi" to find erected in front of them a huge needle of canvas and plaster of paris, with an eye large enough not only for a camel to pass through, but for the passage of a camel with a rich man on his back. The needle was painted a steel color, and every banker in the party was anxious to see the camel go through the eye, and to go through himself. There weren't camels enough in the place to accommodate all who wanted to if two or more of the rich men would have to ride through at once in order to satisfy all hands. Two thousand members and guests of the American Bankers' Association and their wives and friends went to the Knick-erbocker Theatre last night to see Lulu Glaser in "A Madcap Princess," which is a musical version of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." As many more of them will see the same play to-night, the Knickerbocker having been bought out for both performances.

Souvenir spoons were distributed, and the boxes were decorated with monograms worked in electric lights. A special pro-gramme had a photograph of Miss Glaser on the title page. When the curtain fell between the acts waiters passed down the aisles and gave everybody in the audience a little box that was in the form of a miniature safe. When the lock was turned to the combination the safe opened and disclosed a tiny package of ice cream. There were Chinese silk napkins to go with it.
The New Amsterdam Theatre, where "The Rogers Brothers in Paris" is the attraction, was also packed with the MANY ELEVATOR ACCIDENTS. Death of Thirty Persons Since Jan. 1 Stirs Coroner.

At an inquest yesterday afternoon into the death of William Becker, who was killed by the fall of a freight elevator at 265-267 Mercer Street on Aug. 15, Coroner Jackson said that since Jan. 1 there have been thirty persons killed and many more injured by faulty elevators. He be-lieved it was time that something was done to lessen the number of these acci-

COTTON SPINNERS' CONGRESS. Plan to be Laid Before Southern Bank

ers at a Dinner Here. In order to enable the cotton spinners of New England and Europe to study cotton growing and manufacturing possibili the South, there is to be held, probably in Atlanta, an international cotton spinners' convention Richard H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, has sent an pen letter on the subject to Col. Robert J. Lowry of Atlanta, who has laid the matter before the Bankers' Associaand S. F. B. Morse. President of the Southern Cotton Corporation, will give a dinner at Sherry's to-night to the Southern bank-order to have the proposed cotton meeting The Governors of several Southern States, says Mr. Edmonds's letter, have joined in the plan, and favorable replies have been received from many cotton men in England a member of the English cotton man ufacturers' organization having said his associates probably would accept the invitation officially. Southern bankers wishing to attend to-night's dinner have been asked to give their names to E. W. Lane or L. J. Hillyer, care of the Bankers' Association so that cards of admission may be sent to

PARADERS STAB POLICEMAN.

He Tries to Drive Through Line and Riot Follows. Following the attempt of a "plainclothes" policeman to drive through the line of an Italian parade there was a small riot at Third Avenue and President

Street, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon. The coliceman was stabbed five times and the reserves of the Bergen Street Station wer called out to quell the disturbance, About 300 Italians were in the parade, which was being held in observance of a religious festival. Patrolman Andrew Se selman of the Boiler Inspection Squad, with his driver, Henry Smith, came down President Street just as the procession reached that point on Third Avenue. Ses selman was in a hurry, and signaled that a break be made in the line. The mar-shal consented to his going through, but other paraders, thinking that the procession would be thrown into confusion, re fused to give way. When the driver start-ed to go ahead a half dozen Italians sprang to the horse's head and forced the wagon back. In an instant there was an uproar. Men on the sidewalk began throwing bricks, and the Italians started in to do some brick throwing themselves. Police-man Sesselman was dragged from the wagon, beaten, and stabbed in the left some one had sent word to the Bergen Street Station, and the police reserves came on the run. They soon dispersed the crowd, and arrested two men on suspicion of having stabbed Sesselman. The pris-oners described themselves as John Ro-manneli and Julian Buffo, living in Fourth Avenue, and were locked up. The police avenue, and were locked up. WOODEND DEFIANT WITNESS. Refuses to Tell Who Backers Are at Creditors' Meeting.

The first meeting of the creditors of the bankrupt firm of W. E. Woodend & Co. was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Referee Nathaniel A. Prentice at 120 Broadway. Dr. Woodend was examined by Judge George M. Curtis. He refused to answer a question when directed to do so by the referee, and may be certified to Judge

Holt as in contempt of court. Judge Curtis, as counsel for the creditors who do not approve the proposed settle-ment, asked Woodend who the men were who intended to back the newly organized company, and on advice of counsel, Charles company, and on advice of counsel, Charles Le Barbier, the doctor declined to answer, saying that such an exposure at this time might result in those brokers retiring from the project. It was then that the referee interposed. Replying to Attorney Spencer, Dr. Woodend insisted that no bucket shop methods would be employed in the company with which he will resume business if allowed by the creditors.

Woodend reiterated on examination that he sank $69,000 in the last Patti tour; that he lost prestige valued at about $100,000 as a result of that fact becoming gossip prior to the bringing of the involuntary bankruptcy proceedings on April 28 last.
